Russ Down U.S. Plane, Nikita Reveals In Bristling Speech

Research Pilot May Be Victim

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The United States lodged an immediate "inquiry" with Russia today to determine whether a U. S. plane shot down by Soviet forces Sunday was an unarmed weather craft with an unconscious civilian pilot at the controls.

Acting on President Eisenhower's orders, the State Department instructed the U. S. ambassador to Moscow, Llewellyn E. Thompson, to ask the Soviet government about the incident "with particular reference to the fate of the pilot."

WEATHER PLANE

The plane was believed to be a one-man weather reconnaissance Lockheed U2 of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration. It disappeared in the general area after the pilot reported he was having trouble with his oxygen equipment.

The State Department said the plane might have violated the Russian border accidentally after the pilot blacked out. It was flying in the Lake Van area near the Russo-Turkish border.

The plane, operated by a Lockheed pilot, was part of a U. S. worldwide weather research program started in 1956. It carried meteorological equipment and cameras to take cloud cover pictures. The space administration emphasized that the cameras were "not reconnaissance cameras."

BELLIGERENT SPEECH

The United States sprang to action after Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev announced the plane incident in a belligerent speech.

President Eisenhower was informed of Khrushchev's speech while attending a prescheduled National Security Council meeting held outside Washington early in the day as part of a civil defense exercise. He returned to the White House and announced that he had ordered a "complete inquiry."

Shortly afterward the State Department issued a statement noting it had been announced Tuesday that the unarmed U2 weather research plane, based at Adana, Turkey, had been missing since Sunday.

OXYGEN TROUBLE

"During the flight of this plane the pilot reported difficulty with his oxygen equipment," said the statement read by department press officer Lincoln White. It added:

"It may be that this was the missing plane. It is entirely possible that having a failure in the oxygen equipment which could result in the pilot losing consciousness, the plane continued on automatic pilot for a considerable distance and accidentally violated Soviet air space."

The State Department said it had "absolutely no information" on another alleged plane which Khrushchev said flew over Russia near the Afghanistan border on April 9.

U.S. REACTION

Blast Chills Hope For Summit Meet

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's announcement that Russia has shot down an American plane and his rocket-rattling attack on the United States chilled summit preparations here today.

Khrushchev's remarks before the Supreme Soviet even raised some speculation concerning President Eisenhower's scheduled visit to Russia in June.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty declined comment when asked whether the Khrushchev speech might lead to reexamination of plans for the summit meeting or Eisenhower's trip to Russia.

The State Department had no immediate comment on Khrushchev's announcement or his charge that sending a plane into Russia meant there was "little hope" for the summit meeting, set to get under way in Paris May 16.

Officials privately were inclined to try to discount the long-range impact of Khrushchev's bare-knuckle speech.

But they acknowledged that the Khrushchev talk might well put an end to the seven months of "better feeling" — what Khrushchev called "the spirit of Camp David"—which has existed between Moscow and Washington since last September's Camp David conference between Khrushchev and Eisenhower.

Some State Department officials, in an initial private reaction to the development, tried to dismiss the speech as presummit maneuvering to be expected from the premier just before the Big Four meeting.

K Threatens Allies, Takes Slap At Nixon

MOSCOW (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev told the Soviet parliament in a bristling speech today that Soviet armed forces have shot down a plane he described as a U. S. military craft. He threatened to retaliate with rockets if American bombers appear over the Soviet Union.

The Soviet premier's speech cast gloom over prospects for the summit conference opening in 11 days. He issued an unveiled threat to U. S. allies, took a hefty slap at Vice President Richard M. Nixon, and charged that President Eisenhower's freedom of movement at the summit is being restricted by "certain U. S. circles."

Khrushchev referred angrily to Eisenhower's suggestion that Nixon might sit in for him at the summit if the President's presence is required in Washington on domestic matters.

Khrushchev said he had met Nixon several times and it was difficult for him not to gain the impression Nixon was the last person to think of stopping the cold war or ending the arms race.

CITES PROVERB

"I am afraid that if Nixon becomes entitled to carry on negotiations at the summit, it would be, as we say in Russia, like sending a goat to take care of the cabbage," the Soviet premier said.

The Supreme Soviet (parliament) session burst into a wave of applause as Khrushchev announced the downing of an American plane Sunday.

A single-engine jet U2 research plane has been missing since May 1 after a takeoff in Turkey, Pentagon officials said. It is assumed to have come down near Lake Van, not far from the border of Soviet Armenia.

1958 ATTACK

In this general area a U. S. C130 transport was downed by Soviet forces in 1958. By U. S. reckoning, the Soviets accounted for only six of 17 men lost then. The U2, a ship assigned to National Aeronautics and Space Administration, is a flying laboratory assigned to make weather observations and check air for radioactivity.

The Pentagon said one man was aboard.

Khrushchev called the plane incident an aggressive act, and asked rhetorically of the United States:

"If you think you can take such measures, why don't you think we can take similar measures when a plane appears over our territory and threatens the security of our country? We have the same rights as you, the same means as you.

'ROCKETS ON DUTY'

"We have no bombers on duty, but we have rockets on duty. They are more accurate and trustworthy than your bombers."

Then came the threat to U.S. allies. Khrushchev said it is high time for those countries which have provided the United States with bases to realize they are playing with fire and that they, too, can suffer retaliatory blows.

The Soviet leader contended the American plane was sent on a mission to impress and fright-

LOCKHEED TEST PILOT FLEW MISSING PLANE

BURBANK (AP)—Officials of Lockheed Aircraft Corp. confirmed today that a company test pilot was at the controls of a U2 high altitude weather research plane believed to have been shot down over Russian territory.

They said the pilot's name would be released as soon as his family had been notified. A spokesman said the situation was complicated by the fact the pilot's mother is under treatment for a heart condition.

"We want to give a doctor time to prepare her for the news," the spokesman said.

Rescuers Seek To Free Boy Buried In Well

IRONTON, Ohio (AP)—Rescue crews from Ohio and West Virginia have poured into tiny Burlington, Ohio, in an effort to free a 17-year-old boy from his entrapment at the bottom of a 35-foot dry well. Hundreds of would-be helpers and onlookers ringed the scene.

Individual digging efforts were halted early this morning because of the well's repeatedly collapsing walls. A clamshell shovel was brought in to do the work. The weight of the hundreds of persons standing near the well site probably was hastening the collapse, a spokesman said.

Luther Payne was buried under eight feet of the sandy soil late yesterday afternoon as he worked at the bottom of the newly dug well. The sides of the pit had not been shored up. It was to be used as a cesspool.

Rescuers have been hampered from the start by the shifting soil. Late last night one of the youth's arms was uncovered but a collapse of the walls quickly buried it.

Lt. Z. T. Earls of the Huntington fire department said the youth probably has been crushed by the weight of the sand.

The trapped youth is one of eight children of Mr. and Mrs. Minor Payne,

COST INCREASING

Loose Credit Policies Hit By Consumer Aide

I-J Special Report

SAN FRANCISCO — Loose credit policies are robbing Californians of the use of their own money and driving them in increasing numbers to the bankruptcy courts, the state consumer counsel charged here yesterday.

The Unruh Act, which limits interest on most types of retail purchases to 1½ per cent per month, has actually increased the cost of credit in many cases, asserted Mrs. Helen E. Nelson of Mill Valley at a press conference.

Because of it, she said, many stores that formerly granted limited credit without extra cost are now levying service charges.

Teen-agers, she asserted, are being encouraged to open revolving charge accounts without consent of their parents.

The Unruh Act's maximum charges for credit have in many cases become the minimum for stores which previously levied no service charges, she said.

The revolving credit plans allow customers to continue to charge on their accounts so long as they make some payment and pay interest on the balance.

"The stores have been retreating from the responsibility for a good credit policy," declared Mrs. Nelson.

Mrs. Clara G. Shirpser of Berkeley, an advisory committee member, asserted "the good credit risks are being penalized (through the service charge) for the loose credit policies of the stores."

Advent of the revolving credit plan for teen-agers, particularly in jewelry stores and more recently in department stores, has provoked an entirely new problem, Mrs. Nelson pointed out: That of the responsibility of the youths and their parents for such charge accounts.

Practically all the revolving plans are charging 18 per cent interest, she said, on the basis of 1½ per cent per month. However, on low balances the percentage can be increased materially because the stores can, under state law, charge a minimum one dollar service charge on all such accounts.

Thus accounts under $75 will pay substantially more than 18 per cent, she said.

George Bunn, San Francisco attorney and committee member, noted that before the Unruh Act the service charges were as high as 36 per cent.

Mrs. Nelson also declared that credit cards "are getting us into a lot of trouble." People who "have no training" in the use of credit can get it so easily they find themselves paying an exorbitant amount in services charges, she asserted.

Bankruptcies in California, particularly family bankruptcies, it was pointed out, are increasing at a fast rate. She called it "an interesting reflection" on the state's credit laws that California is far ahead of any other state in

2 San Quentin Aides Safe In Plane Crackup

Two San Quentin Prison correctional officers crash-landed in a small plane in a grain field 10 miles south of San Jose yesterday afternoon, but emerged virtually unscathed.

The pilot was Arthur R. Furnas, 33, of 36 Lakeside drive, Corte Madera, and his passenger, Benny Gentile, 30, of Petaluma.

Furnas, resting at home today, told his father, with whom he lives, that he was not even scratched, but Gentile's nose was bumped when he released his safety belt as the plane landed.

They were returning from a pleasure trip to Salinas when engine trouble developed. Furnas let the plane down in a field. It was slowed by mud and nosed over. The propellor was bent.

Furnas had rented the Cessna 140 from a field at Shellville, in Sonoma County, and was returning there. He called the field and a car went to pick them up.

Forgery Ring Suspect Nabbed In Mill Valley

A San Diego man, suspected of forging and passing about $5,000 worth of stolen money orders in Reno last March, was held in Marin County Jail today for Reno police and the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

He is Phillip Robert Sheridan, 35, believed to be a member of a check forgery gang that used girl members to pass the bank money orders.

Inspector Guido Battaglia of the sheriff's office, who arrested Sheridan yesterday with the help of Mill Valley police, said the money orders were stolen in two drug store burglaries in Oregon earlier this year.

Sheridan was to turned over to the United States marshal in San Francisco this afternoon.

Inspector Battaglia credited Mill Valley Police Capt. Joseph Canet and Officer William Walsh for nabbing Sheridan.

It all started with a disturbance in front of the Safeway store on Miller avenue in Mill Valley yesterday about 1:25 a.m. Passersby reported that two women in a Cadillac had a flat tire there and were trying to repair it. Another car pulled up behind it. Two men got out and proceeded to beat up one of the girls, knocking her down.

By the time sheriff's deputies and Mill Valley police arrived, the men and the women were gone, and only the Cadillac remained. Police impounded the car.

About 3 a.m., the men in the other car were stopped for routine checking by San Rafael Police Officer Leo Schwab. They asked directions to Lucas Valley road and drove north. San Rafael police at that time did not know that the men were wanted.

Sheridan later showed up at the Mill Valley police station to get the Cadillac. He was accompanied by John Martin Tuttle of 2645 Polk street, San Francisco, part owner of the Gold Room bar and the Fox Theater buildings.

Mill Valley police held Sheridan for sheriff's deputies. Tuttle was released.

2 Suspects Caught After Robbery Of Geyserville Bank

GEYSERVILLE (AP) — Two young gunmen robbed the Geyserville branch of the Bank of America today.

Twenty-five minutes later, California Highway Patrolmen halted a car south of Geyserville. The sheriff's office said the two occupants were the bank robbers and they were being taken to the Sonoma County Jail at Santa Rosa.

The gunmen had forced a woman teller to hand over currency.

The bank said $2,500 was stolen.

Offer Made To 'Honor' Caryl's Ashes

An offer was made today to "honor" the ashes of Caryl Chessman in a fund-raising campaign to abolish capital punishment.

The offer was made in a telegram from a Fred Darsey of New York to Harry M. Williams, whose San Rafael mortuary handled the cremation of Chessman.

The telegram said:

"Caryl Chessman's ashes are the greatest symbol of capital punishment in our time. Please notify Rose (Rosalie) Asher and/or A. L. Wirin (both attorneys for Chessman) that I will honor his ashes as the torchlight of a national fund-raising campaign to demolish capital punishment in the United States of America forever."

Parks Group Supports Drake Statue Proposal

Erection of a $15,000 statue of Sir Francis Drake on county property at Drakes Bay was urged yesterday by the Marin County Parks and Recreation Commission.

The recommendation was in the form of a resolution, to be presented to the Marin County Board of Supervisors, supporting a request of the San Rafael Greater Chamber of Commerce, according to Mrs. Wayne Tharp, secretary of the commission.

The board of supervisors and park commissioners will tour county parks next Monday. The tour, which will leave the courthouse in San Rafael at 1:30 p.m., will be for the purpose of establishing the need for improvement and maintenance of the county's exisiting parks, Mrs. Tharp said.

At yesterday's meeting of the commission, preliminary plans for development of Paradise Beach County Park on Paradise drive in Tiburon were reviewed. No action wll be taken on development of the former Navy net depot until all residents of the area have had an opportunity to inspect engineering plans for the proposed park, Mrs. Tharp said.

The plans are now in the hands of Marvin W. Brigham, county director of public works.

Man Arrested On Battery Charge

George D. Lucas, 23, of San Francisco was booked by Sausalito police early today on a citizen's arrest complaint charging he hit George Anderson of 305 Richardson street of Sausalito in the Four Winds at 688 Bridgeway.

Police officers David Cooper and Robert Borzone broke up the disturbance. The officers reported Lucas was at the bar with his fiancee and claimed Anderson made some remarks about her. Anderson denied it and Lucas hit him and knocked him off a bar stool, according to accounts given the officers.

Rancher Can't Sell Water To Muir Beach

Muir Beach residents, trying for the last year and a half to obtain potable water, have lost another possible source.

Directors of the Muir Beach Community Services District, were told last night that rancher A. Banducci would be unable to sell them any water.

GROWS FLOWERS

Banducci, who has several acres of flowers which take a lot of water, said he does not feel he has enough water to spare from his farming needs. He had previously told the district that he thought he could sell water.

The rancher said the district may put a pump in his well in September during the dry part of the year and pump for several days the quantity it would need. If the level of the well remains constant, Banducci said, he would then reconsider selling the district water.

The district, said John L. White, secretary - manager, plans now to hire a consultant engineer to make a study to determine where the 150 residents could get water by sinking a well.

TOO MUCH SALT

The district had tried using a chemical purifier in its present well. This not only proved uneconomic, but raised the salt content of the water too high, White said.

The community has enough water but it is so full of minerals that it is unpalatable and residents haul drinking water from friends in Mill Valley. The water is also hard on appliances and pumping equipment.

White said the district's board of directors has decided that meetings will be held, in addition to those in directors' homes, in homes of other Muir Beach residents in order to stimulate more interest and more community participation.

Man Gets Probation For Zoning Violation

Frank Dittle of 153 Walnut avenue, Mill Valley, who built additions to his garage within a five-foot setback area, drew two years probation in Marin Municipal Court.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas put Dittle on probation on condition that he obey all laws, especially the Mill Valley city zoning and building ordinances. Dittle was convicted of violating the city's zoning law.

Knights Pick Candidate For Queen

Kathleen Penders of Mill Valley will represent Knights of Columbus Robert A. Mackenzie Council, 3829 as its candidate for "Queen of the Circus" at the Knights of Columbus Circus in San Francisco June 1.

Miss Penders, 17, is daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph F. Penders of 93 Buena Vista avenue, Mill Valley. She is a junior at Marin Catholic High School.

Her selection was announced at a council committee meeting last night. Penders, public relations chairman, said his daughter will be one of the candidates from Bay Area councils who will vie for the crown. They will gain credits by sale of tickets by their councils.

Winner of the queen contest will be given a trip to Hawaii.

Marin City Fete Set

"Pioneer Homecoming Night," a talent show, will be presented at 7 p.m. Saturday in the Marin City Auditorium by the Marin City Community Services District, with proceeds going toward support of the Marin City recreation program. There will be a dinner in connection with the event.

Stinson Beach Club Hears Candidates

J. Walter Blair, a candidate for the Marin County Board of Supervisors, emphasized his desire for lower taxes in the county when he gave his platform at a meeting of the Stinson Beach Progressive Club last night at the Stinson Beach Community Center.

Mrs. Vera Schultz, incumbent supervisor, outlined her part in county government during the eight years she has served on the board.

Architectural Adviser Named In Mill Valley

Mrs. Lucienne Bloch Dimitroff was appointed by the Mill Valley City Council last night to replace Ray Strong on the architectural advisory board during his absence of approximately one year in Santa Barbara.

The council also, on a recommendation from the board, reduced the number of members from eight to seven.

Pharmacists' Unit Supports Marin Solon

The Pharmaceutical Institute has declared itself in support of State Sen. John F. McCarthy's candidacy for re-election.

The senator said he received notification of the endorsement by mail yesterday, shortly after announcing his opposition to the druggist-sponsored anti-advertising regulation proposed for adoption by the state Board of Pharmacy.

The Pharmaceutical Institute describes itself as "representing California pharmacists, dedicated to the promotion of the public welfare."

"You are authorized to use this endorsement (of Senator McCarthy's candidacy) in any way that you feel may be of help to you," wrote Ben. J. Kingwell, first vice president of the institute.

Only yesterday, McCarthy issued a statement criticising state Board of Pharmacy proposals for putting further restrictions on prescription drug advertising. In the latest session of the Legislature, McCarthey sponsored a measure to exempt prescription drugs from state sales taxes. The measure was defeated.

Knights Of Columbus Delegates Elected

Joseph Curran and Keith Cramer, both of Mill Valley, have been elected to attend the 58th annual convention of the Knights of Columbus at Anaheim on May 13 and 14, from Robert A. Mackenzie Council 3829 of Mill Valley.

Alternate delegates chosen are Joseph Penders and Robert A. Byrne, both of Mill Valley.

Glenn H. Curtiss of Hammandsport, N. Y., devised the seaplane in 1911. He also invented the aileron, built the first flying boats, made the first flight over ocean water, opened the first flying school, built the first water-cooled aeronautical engine, obtained the first aviator's license and, on May 29, 1910, made the nation's first long-distance airplane trip by flying from Albany to New York City.

Fawn Drive Sewer Assessment Area Being Organized

Directors of the Ross Valley Sanitary District last night took the first steps in forming an assessment district on Fawn drive in Sleepy Hollow.

Two lots in that area are now on septic tanks, and there are plans for about a dozen more homes. Formation of the district is being urged by the Marin County Health Department. Directors now will ask the Marin County Board of Supervisors to form the district.

Directors also decided to hold a special meeting at 8 p.m., May 19, at district offices, 11 Library place, San Anselmo, to discuss expansion of the district's treatment plant in accordance with a recent agreement with the Corte Madera Sanitary District.

Contract Awarded For Novato Hospital Job

A contract for construction of a 30-bed hospital in Novato was formally awarded to a Sonoma County contracting firm today by the hospital board of directors.

Meeting for breakfast at 7:30 a.m. at Rickey's Rancho Rafael, the directors named Wright and Oretsky of Santa Rosa as general contractors for the job which, including land and improvements, will total "in the neighborhood of $450,000." Wright and Oretsky's bid of $286,000 for general construction was the lowest of four submitted.

A loan of $250,000 toward construction of the facilities was granted last week by the Small Business Administration in Washington, D.C., and will be handled through the First National Bank in San Rafael, according to Dr. Ralph Weseman, chairman of the board.

"We are still somewhat short of funds for the project," Dr. Weseman said today. "But we have additional money coming in from the doctors in Novato who are the principal stockholders in the corporation and through loans from other Marin County citizens.

"Through the additional sale of stock and loans, we hope to be able to give the contractor the word to begin construction within two weeks."

Completion of the hospital, to be located on approximately eight acres at Hill avenue and Canyon road, is expected by December, Weseman said.

Benefit Film Set In Fairfax Theater

A benefit movie, sponsored by Redwood High School's International Club, will be shown tonight at the Fairfax Theater, not at Tamalpais Theater.

Shirley McClure, president of the International Club, announced that the tickets, which are being sold to the public, have the wrong theater name. The tickets are good, but the showing is at Fairfax Theater, not at Tamalpais.

The movie is "The Five Pennies," starring Danny Kaye and Barbara Bel Geddes. First showing is at 7 and the second at 9 p.m. Proceeds will be used to help students participate in the foreign summer exchange program.

Tickets are still available at the door at Fairfax Theater.

Solon Blasts Proposal To Regulate Drug Ads

The case of the Marin pharmacist who continues to advertise "low prescription prices" today drew the attention of a leading Southern California legislator.

Referring to an anti-advertising regulation proposed for adoption by the state Board of Pharmacy, Assemblyman Sheridan Hegland (D-La Mesa) declared:

"The state Board of Pharmacy apparently is seeking to establish a virtual dictatorship over every drug store in every hamlet in the state in an unseemly and rash extension of governmental controls.

"The regulation could easily result in substantial increases in prices paid by the consumer and in this case the consumers involved are likely to be the ill and the aged."

Hegland, a member of the Assembly Public Health Committee, said he has written letters to Gov. Edmund G. Brown and Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk protesting the proposed regulation.

Further, Hegland declared, the proposed regulation "appears to be specifically contrary to the expression of legislative will and intent as clearly stated in action of the state Legislature in 1959 when it adopted" amendments to the Business and Professions Code stating: "Nothing . . . shall be construed as authorizing the board to adopt rules of professional conduct relating to price fixing or advertising of commodities."

"As a legislator," said Hegland, "it seems to be reasonable that the state Board of Pharmacy should adopt a rule acknowledging its absence of authority to regulate, control or throttle advertising and limiting disciplinary action to cases in which a druggist is convicted in a court of law of violating statutes enacted by the Legislature."

Hegland indicated hope the proposed regulation may be withdrawn and the Board of Pharmacy may "seek through legislative redress correction of any problem which it has in this field, rather than attempting to derive authority from a section of the code not primarily written for the purpose of regulating pharmacists."

341 Eighth Graders Eye Catholic High

A record 341 eighth grade pupils have taken Marin Catholic High School's entrance and placement tests for next fall's freshman class, Rev. Mark J. Hurley, principal, reported today.

The total includes 166 boys and 175 girls from 31 public, private and Catholic schools.

Maximum number that can be accepted is 160, Father Hurley said.

The Marin Catholic High School principal also announced the school will conduct a summer session June 27 to Aug. 5, open to all qualified students from public, private and Catholic schools.

College preparatory subjects will be taught in the summer session, including English, Latin, algebra, geometry and speech. The speech classes will be held at night on Tuesdays and Thursdays; the other classes will be taught in two sessions, the first from 9 to 10:30 a.m. each week day; the second from 10:45 a.m. to 12:15 p.m.

A special feature of the summer session will be a class for eighth grade graduates who need preparation to qualify for college preparatory work. These classes will do remedial work in English and mathematics.

Hillhaven Group Sets Election For May 19

The board of directors of the Hillhaven Property Owners Assn. has set May 19 at 8 p.m. in the Tiburon boulevard firehouse as the date of the annual meeting for election of officers.

At the directors' meeting it was decided that the vice president and the ex-officio member of the board would represent the association at the Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council in the future, president Charles W. Pruett said.

Drunken Driver Draws $150 Fine, Probation

Orville Palmer Hovde, 45-year-old San Anselmo mechanic, drew $150 fine and six months probation yesterday for drunken driving.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court pioneered sentence. Hovde, who lives at 1008 San Anselmo avenue, San Anselmo, was caught on Bridgeway, Sausalito, on Monday.

Assembly Candidates Air Views On Radio

Candidates for the 7th Assembly District (Marin and Sonoma Counties) campaigned today on KTIM's "Marin Sounding Board" in the first of a series of political programs.

The program will be repeated from a recording at 12:30 p.m. Sunday.

Speakers were Mrs. Helen Putnam of Petaluma, a leader in the Parent-Teacher Assn., Joseph Wilson, San Rafael attorney, and Everett A. Matzen of Petaluma, a city councilman and Butchers Union business agent, all Democrats, and William T. Bagley, San Rafael attorney, and Leigh Shoemaker, Petaluma businessman and member of the Sonoma County Board of Supervisors, both Republicans.

Mrs. Putnam traced her interest in legislative matters through her membership in P-TA, and said that she thought being a woman candidate gave her an advantage. She said she is entering politics with emphasis on her educational background. Mrs. Putnam said there is a need for more accurate education and better school district organization.

Wilson said this election will be an important one because long-time incumbent Richard H. McCollister is retiring, and because there is now no cross-filing. The major problem is the fact of growth in the two counties, he said, and a way must be found to meet increased public needs through equitable methods of financing. Too often, he said, these needs are shunted aside until they become urgent. He cited one of these as water needs.

Matzen said he was born on a chicken ranch and is a "friend of the farmer," but that he would support all legislation impartially based on the needs of all segments of society. He said he is particularly sensitive to taxes, recreation, smog control, industrial development, farmers and laborers.

Bagley said the main problem of state government is that of economics, how to preserve the state's credit and financial integrity in the face of growth. He said growth must be fostered, jobs need to be provided and capital investments must be encouraged, but that it should be encouraged by the state without waste. He said the bureaucratic growth of state government now makes the department heads the most powerful lobbyists. He asked for a flexible state budget.

Shoemaker said his background of a trained engineer and merchant and in his interest and service on the Petaluma City Council, in rapid transit and other Bay Area problems qualifies him for office. He said the two counties have "tremendous industrial potential."

During a question period, Shoemaker said he favors Gov. Edmund G. Brown's plan to reorganize state government to avoid overlapping services, and that he favors no further additional sales taxes at this time.

Bagley said Brown's plan doesn't necessarily eliminate bureaus, but just joins them together. Mrs. Putnam said, "we shouldn't fall into the trap that we think we can reduce something without providing service," But she added spending must be done wisely.

Wilson said, "We must face what the public wants. What the public demands is just as important a decision to consider as the decision on how to raise the funds."

Budget Item Questioned But Approved

Three two-way mobile radio units stayed in the county agricultural commissioner's budget this morning after strenuous effort by Chairman Walter Castro of the Marin County Board of Supervisors to establish that maybe phone calls could handle matters as well and cheaper.

Richard Straw, the new commissioner, declared that "radio is very important in our work and by it field men are controlled and mileage cost is cut . . . Also, it satisfies people if they aren't held up on such things as plant shipments to be checked."

'BIG ITEM'

"It's a big item whereas a phone call costs little," objected Castro as he looked at "radios $1,650" under capital outlay. "We're trying to hold the line, but it's hard to see where . . . Maybe a survey should be made."

But County Administrator Donald A. Jensen backed Straw on the point that here was a law enforcement outlay, supported by the communications department which had ruled against several similar requests including juvenile hall. This budget finally went through for $49,354 as against $45,172 for the previous year.

OTHER BUDGETS

Other budgets passed this morning included:

1. County library and library building fund, the latter for $85,000 toward the new civic center library provision. The board plumped for a basically unchanged book purchase program though this cost $21,000 against $19,900 last year due to rising prices; Librarian Virginia Keating wanted $1,000 more. Final library total $166,795, compared with $151,225 last year.

2. Communications, cutting $2,300 to a $2,500 figure instead of $4,800 under capital outlay, to a total $113,670 against $106,942 last year. The board asked for a survey of rates being charged Marin cities, as no increase has been made in 20 years.

WEIGHTS, MEASURES

3. Sealer of weights and measures, approved at $22,234 as recommended as against $20,041 last year.

4. Farm adviser, $14,262 approved; $13,394 last year.

5. County clerk, approved as submitted on $133,090 requested, against $119,497 last year. Clerk George Jones said his own services weren't at all charged against the supervisors but two of his helpers gave full time.

6. Pound, approved at $87,600 as requested, against $83,496 last year. No change in dog license fee was felt necessary.

7. Fish and game, $1,000 as requested and as last year.

8. Miscellaneous, $1,600, up $200 from the request to include the county harbor commission. Last year was $5,088 but many items had been eliminated.

Suspect In Theft Of Tool Arrested

Henry C. Springer, 21, of Sacramento was jailed yesterday noon on suspicion of stealing a surface planer worth $136 from Tiburon boat builder McKie W. Roth Jr.

Roth, who lives at 2130 Mar East, told Sheriff's Sgt. G. V. Gibbs the equipment had been stolen from his place of business at Kappas' Harbor. The door hasp and lock had been broken.

Newspaper Purchases New Mill Valley Site

Thomas F. Collison, publisher of the Mill Valley Record, announced today that a site has been purchased on Miller avenue for a new home for the newspaper.

The location is between Reed street and C's Drive-In. Collison said he has no immediate plans for building on the site, which was purchased from William A. Anderson en the Soviet Union on the eve of the summit.

Khrushchev did not disclose the type of plane, the number aboard or fate of the fliers.

The deputies in the Supreme Soviet applauded Khrushchev's prediction that chances of success at the summit have been dimmed by the attitude of the Western Allies. Khrushchev said the governments of the United States, Britain and France do not seem to be looking forward to settlement of outstanding cold war issues.

"This dims the chances of success at the talks," Khrushchev said.

Describing what he presented as events leading to the plane incident, Khrushchev said an American plane crossed into Soviet territory from the Afghan border April 9 and the Soviet Union took no action.

"Apparently the Americans liked the fact that they made this incursion and were not punished," the Premier said. "On the first of May at 5:36 a.m. an American plane crossed the border into our territory. The order was given to shoot down the invader. This order was fulfilled and the plane was shot down.

"It appeared that the plane was American, although the markings were painted out."

Deputies shouted, "Down with the aggressor!" and "It's direct banditry!"

the Union in the number of bankruptcies filed each year.

She said the birth of a new industry—the pro-raters—also testifies to the "great deal of financial trouble" families are getting into. The pro-raters, Mrs. Nelson said, "help families crawl out of debt" by managing what income they do have.

This often results in the family trying to live on only 10 per cent of its income with the rest paid out to creditors by the pro-raters. The pro-rater usually charges about 18 per cent and it takes an average family "about three years eating breakfast cereals" to get out of debt, she declared.

One pro-rater told her that about seven out of 10 of his clients are rehabilitated, but that three of 10 come back again. However, he went on, the rate of rehabilitation is declining and he is getting more "repeat business."

Neither bankruptcy nor need for a pro-rater apparently affects a person's credit,Mrs. Nelson declared. Asked if anyone refuses credit these days, she answered, "I can't find much evidence they do."

A note of warning against blanket condemnation of credit buying, however, was sounded by Vernon A. Libby of Mill Valley, a member of the advisory committee and manager of the San Francisco Better Business Bureau.

"Some people work best under compulsion," he said, "and many of the goods Americans have acquired have been on the installment plan."

"That's true," said Mrs. Nelson. "Credit buying is the poor man's savings account. What we want to do is protect him from unwarranted expense in the process."

Hayden's Boat To Head For Tahiti Again

Sterling Hayden's Wanderer will sail again for the South Seas June 10, but the actor will not be aboard.

Skipper of the ship will be Omer Darr of Mill Valley, who said he and a group of others interested in adventure have chartered the vessel for a trip that will last through the summer.

Darr, 42, originally from Kelso, Wash., and now of Tahiti, said he has known Hayden for some time, and met him again in Tahiti when the actor took his children there last year.

TOUR GROUP

Darr said the group making the voyage will include college students and businessmen. "We are still interested in taking people on," he said, "but this is not a luxury cruise. People should not be too old and they should know how to sail."

He said 16 to 18 persons will be aboard, and all will be crew members. Each will pay a share of expenses.

The yacht will return in mid-September. Darr's wife, Harriet, and their four children will remain in Mill Valley.

RAN SHIP

Darr formerly ran a passenger ship between Tahiti and Honolulu, and when he returns to Tahiti after this voyage he may go into real estate development, he said.

The Wanderer will take about 16 days to sail to the Marquesa Islands. There, according to Darr, there will be opportunity to photograph tropical scenes, fish and take advantages of beautiful beaches.

Third Son Born To Sheriff, Wife

Sheriff and Mrs. Louis P. Mountanos are parents of a new boy, born at Marin General Hospital last night.

They now have three children, all sons. The latest addition, who weighed 7 pounds 4 ounces, is named Robert Louis.

Both mother and son are doing fine at the hospital. But one of their other sons, Michael, has measles, and the sheriff was home today acting as baby sitter.

Ignacio Cafe To Reopen Tomorrow

Burge's Drive-In, closed for repairs since April 3 when fire destroyed a portion of the building, will reopen tomorrow at 6 a.m.

The Ignacio cafe will feature new equipment but continue to serve its well-known southern fried chicken in a basket. It will serve a new and larger hamburger special.

OBITUARIES

Long-Time Marinite Dies At 83

Emil (Teddy) Lundquist, a San Rafael resident for more than 53 years, died at the age of 83 last night at a local hospital after long illness.

Funeral arrangements, are being handled by Keaton's Mortuary.

Born in Sweden Dec. 23, 1876, Lundquist came to the United States at the age of 16 and mined in the Nevada gold country. At the period of the 1906 earthquake he came to San Rafael and for some years engaged in various business enterprises with his brother John, who survives him and now lives in San Francisco.

For a period he was in the restaurant business. Then he owned and managed an apartment house at 110 Laurel place for 30 years until he sold the building and retired 10 years ago.

Survivors include his wife, Grace; one son, Emil (Bud) Lundquist of San Jose; a sister, Ella Ormsberg of New York City; and three brothers, John, Jalma Lundquist of Los Angeles and Bertel Lundquist of Sweden.

Shirley Walker, Advertising Man, Dies At Age 80

Shirley Walker, 80, a San Francisco advertising man since 1904 and a Sleepy Hollow resident for 15 years, died yesterday at his home at 710 Butterfield road after an illness.

Private funeral services were held today at Harry M. Williams Mortuary in San Rafael.

Walker, a San Francisco native, founded Theta Delta Chi fraternity at University of California while a student there. He was graduated in 1902, and two years later opened his own advertising agency.

Over the years, the agency was merged and combined with several others. At his retirement three years ago, Walker was vice president and treasurer of Evans, McClure and Associates.

He was a onetime president of the San Francisco Advertising Club. He resided in San Francisco until moving to Sleepy Hollow.

Surviving are his wife, Marguerite; two daughters, Dorothy Walker of Sleepy Hollow and Mrs. Patricia Richardson of Detroit, and two grandchildren.

Sacramento Man Dies In Automobile

A Southern Pacific Co. employee from Sacramento, headed for a hospital in San Francisco, died in an automobile near Black Point cutoff last evening, apparently from a heart attack.

The victim was Leland W. Joseph, 49, who was being driven to a San Francisco hospital by his wife, Ruth. She immediately sought aid at the Novato fire station on South Novato boulevard, but resuscitation efforts failed.

Deputy Coroner Charles R. Johnson of Novato said the victim had been under a doctor's care for a heart condition. The body will be sent to Gormley Funeral Home in Sacramento for funeral arrangements.

Besides his wife, Joseph leaves two children.

Marinite's Father Dies In Indiana

Kern Dillman, 73, father of J. E. (Red) Dillman, of San Rafael, died yesterday at his home at Frankfort, Ind.

Dillman, who died after a long illness, will be buried at Frankfort. He also leaves a grandson, John R. Dillman, and four great-grandchildren of San Rafael.

QUEEN REBUFFS CRITICS

Wedding Fever Grips London

LONDON (UPI)—Queen Elizabeth today ordered that the divorced parents of Antony Armstrong-Jones be seated among royalty at Tony's wedding tomorrow to Princess Margaret—a rebuff to critics of the marriage.

Another score for the young couple was chalked up last night when 50,000 persons massed before Buckingham Palace in a tumtultuous demonstration of affection for the princess. She was attending a pre-wedding dinner and ball given for her and Armstrong-Jones by the queen.

The queen's decision on Armstrong-Jones' parents came as Tony and Margaret went to Westminster Abbey today for a final dress rehearsal of the wedding. They slept late after last night's festivities, then went to the abbey with their friends in a procession of 14 automobiles.

A large force of extra police was assigned to guard the abbey while Margaret, Tony, the queen, the queen mother, the Duke of Edinburgh—who is giving the bride away—Dr. Roger Gilliatt, the best man, and Queen Ingrid of Denmark went through the rehearsal.

Queen Ingrid, the only one of Europe's ruling royalty to accept an invitation, will sit in the first row at the wedding with the immediate members of the British royal family. This will be right behind three specially placed gilded chairs for the queen, the duke and the queen mother.

OPPOSITE SIDE

This is to the right of the sanctuary. On the opposite side, Ronald Armstrong-Jones, Tony's father, and his divorced wife, the Countess of Rosse, will sit in the first row of a group which includes members of the Yugoslav and Germanic royal houses and relatives of Queen Elizabeth.

Thousands thronged the route of the royal processions today, jamming traffic in the center of London. On the sidewalks, the first of the many who will come to see the wedding procession began to camp out for the 24-hour wait until the princess rides by in her glass coach on her way to be married.

DEAN'S PRAYER

The Dean of Westminster, describing the ancient abbey as "the central shrine of the English-speaking peoples," said before the rehearsal that he would say a prayer at the ceremony for children to be granted to the union of Margaret and Tony.

"I hope," he told a small army of reporters at the abbey, "that you will all remember that for a woman this is the greatest day of her life."

Police now estimate that more than 500,000 persons—absolute capacity—will pack the three-quarters of a mile from Clarence House and Buckingham Palace to the abbey when Queen Elizabeth and her procession and Princess Margaret in her glass coach travel along flower-decorated streets to the wedding.

REPORTED MISSILE SITE—Pointer locates Cuba's Zapata Swamp where Communists are reported aiding in construction of a huge concrete strip, possibly an airstrip or missile launching pad.

Reds Helping Build Missile Pad In Cuba?

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Russia is helping build a concrete missile launching pad in Cuba, a former Cuban intelligence chief has told congressional investigators.

But U.S. intelligence officials said they were inclined to doubt this. Cuba's ambassador to the Organization of American States called the allegations ridiculous.

Col. Manuel Antonio Ugalde Carrillo, intelligence chief under ousted Cuban dictator Fulgencio Batista, said more than 1,000 Chinese Communist technicians and about 15 Russian technicians are in Cuba directing various projects for the government of Fidel Castro.

Ugalde said one of the projects is a concrete installation 20 kilometers long and 200 meters wide in the isolated swamplands near Cienaga de Zapata. He said he believed it was a missile launching pad or giant airstrip.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Tax Relief Passed

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate passed a bill to remove the limit on medical expenses that a taxpayer may deduct for his mother and father and his wife's mother and father.

The present income tax law permits a taxpayer to deduct only medical expenses which exceed 3 per cent of his gross income until he reaches 65, when the limit is removed.

New Prison Camps

SACRAMENTO (UPI) — The state Department of Corrections will open seven new prison conservation camps this year and plans three centers to serve all camps in the state, Gov. Edmund G. Brown announced today.

Brown said three of the new camps will be mobile, while the others will be located at Plum Creek in Tehama County, Don Lugo in San Bernardino County, Mountain Home in Tulare County and Alder in Del Norte County.

Saving-Loan Gains

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The nation's savings and loan associations have nearly tripled their assets in the past seven years, a government report showed today.

It also revealed that three of the five biggest associations are in Los Angeles and that several California associations posted huge deposit gains last year. The report was issued by the Federad Savings and Loan Insurance Corp.

Critic Justified

LONDON, (UPI)—Maj. L. T. Whitaker complained at a lunch of the National Pig Breeders Assn. yesterday that Britons are not eating enough bacon. Main course at the lunch was roast lamb.

Finch Sees Carole

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Carole Tregoff and her lover, Dr. R. Bernard Finch, held an hour-long rendezvous in an attorney's visiting room in the county jail.

The physician and his former receptionist, accused of murdering the doctor's wife, had terse "no comment" yesterday when reporters asked what they talked about.

Carole is free on bail and Finch remains in jail. A retrial of their murder trial is set for May 23.

New Turkish Riot

ISTANBUL, Turkey (UPI)—Five thousand persons surged yesterday through the allied headquarters city of Izmir in the biggest anti-government demonstration reported on a week of violence in Turkey. At least two policemen were beaten by the mob, and six demonstrators were arrested.

The 16-year-old Cheryl ran away with two girl companions from the home last Friday.

Southwest Battered

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Tornadoes, thunderstorms and hail lashed the southwest during the night, causing widespread damage and at least one death.

The twisters leveled houses, uprooted trees and downed power lines in Oklahoma, Kansas and Texas. Flash floods accompanied the heavy rain and lightning touched off several fires. At least 10 persons were injured by tornadoes that hit nine Oklahoma communities. Several more were missing.

Calls Brando 'Slob'

SANTA MONICA (UPI)—Actress Anna Kashfi called her ex-husband, Marlon Brando, a "slob" and "criminal" yesterday and ended a stormy session on the witness stand by defying a judge and stalking out.

Superior Court Judge Allen T. Lynch ordered a bailiff to catch the fleeing 25-year-old beauty and bring her back to the courtroom to complete her testimony. The courtroom battle—one of a long series between Miss Kashfi and Brando, 35, over his rights to see their 2-year-old son, Christian—continues today.

Groups Begin Study Of Criminal Insanity Laws

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Two new state commissions which don't believe in wasting time met today to launch a study of California's criminal insanity laws with a view to revision.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown created the commissions yesterday. He named Thomas C. Lynch, San Francisco district attorney, to head both of them. A Marin County resident is a member.

One group will study the present legal definition of insanity, which is simply whether the offender knows right from wrong.

Brown doesn't like the definition, and lawyers and psychiatrists have attacked it as outmoded and inadequate.

The second commission will study revision of the laws dealing with how to handle criminals who are or claim to be insane.

Grant Cooper, former chief deputy district attorney for Los Angeles, will be vice chairman of the second commission.

John A. Pettis, Oakland attorney, will serve as project director for both commissions.

The members, who all served on an informal committee on the same subject last summer, are:

Dr. Bernard Diamond, San Francisco psychiatrist who resides in Ross; Leo Friedman, San Francisco lawyer; Arthur Sherry, University of California law professor; Dr. Edward Steinbrook, University of Southern California medicine professor; Dr. Marcel Frym, Beverly Hills criminologist; Dean Robert Kingsley of the University of Southern California Law School, and William B. McKesson, district attorney of Los Angeles.

Inverness Utility District Election Off—No Filings

An election scheduled for Tuesday in the Inverness Public Utility District has been called off because there are no candidates.

Secretary-clerk Richard M. Cantwell said today no candidates had presented themselves by April 26, the deadline, for the expiring terms of Emile Huguenin and himself

He said the board would meet either today or tomorrow and formally pass a resolution calling off the election, and would write to the Marin County Board of Supervisors proposing that Ray Randall of Inverness take Huguenin's place. Cantwell said he would continue to serve. The district mainly is concerned with water supply and fire protection.

Tulare County Reports Bat-Bite Rabies Case

PORTERVILLE (UPI)—Tulare County reported today its first case of animal rabies in more than two and one-half years.

Dr. Clark Richardson, county health officer, said eight-year-old Mitchell Brookins of Porterville, has been hospitalized for rabies treatment after he was bitten by a bat last April 15. Test showed the animal was rabid.

Father Freed Of Charges Stemming From Girl's Party

A Marinwood father, accused of contributing to the delinquency of minors for letting his daughter's party get out of hand last Saturday night, was freed of the charge yesterday in Marin Municipal Court.

Judge Leonard A. Thomas dismissed the charge against Robert Charles Young, 55, of 2830 Heatherstone drive on recommendation of Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich. After discussing the incident with sheriff's investigators and a probation official, Weissich said he feels Young was merely a victime of party crashers.

Young's 15-year-old daughter had invited some girl friends for a party at her home Saturday night. Before the evening was over, boys crashed the party, bringing beer with them. The party went out of control. Neighbors turned in a complaint.

Sheriff's deputies said they broke up a group of about 40 youngsters at the Young home.

Probation, Welfare Budgets Approved

The Marin County Board of Supervisors yesterday gave tentative approval to proposed probation and welfare department budgets for 1960-61.

In the case of the budget presented by Chief Probation Officer Walter Busher, his requests were trimmed approximately $20,000 to a total of $190,257. Busher asked for $210,640, but the lesser sum, the recommendation of County Administrator Donald A. Jensen, was approved.

Busher's request for $188,441 for the juvenile hall was trimmed to $158,470. His request for $98,700 for court wards was approved as submitted. Of that amount, it is estimated the county will be reimbursed $20,000.

Requests for salary reclassifications that would have meant another $18,000 for the probation budget and $30,000 more for juvenile hall were not considered in the tentative budgets.

As probation department budget items were ticked off, Supervisor William Gnoss demanded to know why there was so much difference between Jensen's recommendations and Busher's requests. Jensen said he was recommending continuing the department on the same level of services as at present, while Busher had asked for more "based on what my office projected in 1957."

At one point during the discussion, Supervisors' Chairman Walter R. Castro said, "We've got a tough year, and there's got to be some budget cutting."

Busher wanted four new positions in the probation department, effective July 1: Two deputy probations officers, a typist-clerk and a telephone operator-receptionist. The supervisors approved Jensen's recommendation of one deputy to be hired in July and another in January, and the typist-clerk to start in July.

The tentative probation budget of $190,257 compares with $152,855 estimated to be spent during the current fiscal year.

The juvenile hall figure of $158,470 compares with the current estimate of $107,275, and does not include the expected borrowing of $300,000 in veterans memorial funds for additions to the hall.

Busher asked for six group supervisors and was granted four, with two others possibly to be hired next spring. He was granted an assistant juvenile hall superintendent. The board also said it would consider putting a $1,600 medical examination room for the hall in the department of public works budget along with funds for replacing windows in the girls' wing, an item which has been removed from the latter budget.

A welfare department budget of $394,459 was approved, compared to an estimated current expenditure of $349,163. The public assistance and general relief budgets were delayed for consideration until June, when Welfare Department Director Betty Pressly said she might have a more accurate picture of needs based on current expenses. She painted a generally pessimistic picture, fearing that a "depression" might make increases necessary.

Supervisor William D. Fusselman commented, "If this is true, then we'd beter cut some of the other budgets."

The current estimate of needs in publis assistance for the 1960-61 fiscal year totals $1,951,080, with $1,675,060 accruing from state and federal programs. The general relief budget is estimated at $205,344, with only $21,014 in indigent aid and state adoption care being paid from sources other than county funds.

The welfare budget was increased approximately $2,000 because of increased costs in rent. Approximately $160,000 is expected in state and federal accruals.

Engineers Slate Bid Opening For Sausalito Leases

Bids will be opened next month on the leasing of more than 150,000 square feet of federal government property in Sausalito for industrial, commercial or marine use.

The Army Engineer district office in San Francisco said today the property includes a 20,000 square foot administration building, a paint storage building and a 127,000 square foot open storage area at the engineers' base yard, near the building that houses the Bay model.

Lease terms include reconstruction and lowering of a dock and removal of a ramp near the pier area. Bids will be opened June 14 at 11 a.m. at the engineer offices, 180 New Montgomery street, San Francisco. The lease will be for five years, starting July 1.

Horsemen's Assn. Chooses Officers

The San Geronimo Valley Horsemen Assn. elected Jesse (Buck) Joyce of Forest Knolls as president Monday night.

Joyce, a pump manager for the Marin Municipal Water District, replaces Leslie S. Stone, San Rafael architect, who was elected vice president. Stone replaces William Rautio.

Mrs. Jean Wilson of Forest Knolls was elected secretary, replacing Mrs. Georgette Vilas, and Mrs. Marietta Larsen of Woodacre was elected treasurer succeeding Mrs. Winifred Frederick.

Elected to the board of directors were Carl Travis of Woodacre, Fritz Pfeffer of San Geronimo and F. L. Vaughn, also of San Geronimo.

Hearing Slated For Burglary Suspect's Mom

A preliminary hearing will be held in Marin Municipal Court tomorrow morning for a Novato mother, whose 14-year-old son is suspected of burglarizing the Lynwood School last weekend.

Mrs. Ida Mae Carter, 36, of Bobo's Trailer Court, pleaded innocent yesterday to a charge of contributing to the delinquency of her children. Sheriff's deputies said Mrs. Carter admitted receiving $20 of the Lynwood School loot from her son, while knowing the money was stolen.

Officers caught the 14-year-old boy and two 11-year-old companions when they began flashing large sums of money at Novato stores. The boys allegedly bought a .22 rifle, pellet pistol, ammunition and other items with more than $100 stolen from the school filing cabinet. Officers say the 14-year-old told them he is an old hand at safe-cracking, having watched his uncle peel safes since he was 10 years old.

The 14-year-old, a runaway from a mental hospital in the state of Washington, is also wanted for questioning there in connection with the slaying of a 9-year-old girl.

Tiburon Sanitary District Annexation To Be Explained

A second meeting to explain the proposed annexation of 300 acres from Richardson Bay to Racoon Straits into the Tiburon Sanitary District will be held at 8 o'clock tonight in the district's Tiburon boulevard sewage treatment plant.

Representatives from the sanitary district and William Desmond, Marin County sanitary engineer, will be on hand to answer questions.

Leslie Smith, engineer and spokesman for Tiburon Associates, said expansion of the Tiburon plant to take care of the existing population would cost approximately $300,000. If expansion were done to take care of the 10,800 population predicted for the future, the cost would be around $370,000, he added.

Signatures representing 75 per cent of the hillside area's assessed valuation must be affixed to petitions if annexation is to proceed Smith said.

Mill Valley Councilmen Amend Zone Ordinance

A planned unit development amendment to the Mill Valley zoning ordinance was adopted unanimously last night by the Mill Valley City Council, along with other zoning ordinance amendments.

The purpose is to provide better development on parcels of four acres or more, by allowing diversification in the relationships and heights of various buildings, and in lot sizes.

Planners hope thus to encourage comprehensive site planning.

Some of the other new amendments to the zoning ordinance are: An increase in fees; a swimming pool, heretofore not particularly defined, is now defined as a structure; use permits are now required in the residential district for kindergartens, nursery schools or day care centers; there shall be a minimum lot area of 3,000 square feet for each family unit in any duplex; and a service station may be permitted in any commercial district upon issuance of a use permit.

Planned unit development can apply to commercial areas, a subdivision or a single family residential area. It must be approved by the planning commission and the city council.

The ordinances amendments will be effective iu 30 days.

S.F.-Angel Isle Boat Service Permit Given

The Harbor Tug and Barge Co. of San Francisco has been granted a certificate to carry passengers between San Francisco and Angel Island State Park.

The certificate was issued after a favorable decision by the California Public Utilities Commission. The decision also said a certificate would be issued Milton McDonogh of 21 Main street, Tiburon, to carry passengers from Tiburon to Angel Island if he files proof in 90 days that the vessel he is using has been licensed and certified by the Coast Guard.

The Harbor Tug and Barge Co. must obtain at least $250,000 in liability insurance for injury or death of one person and not less than two million dollars insurance for injury or death of more than one person in any one accident.

The company will provide for one round-trip to the island daily from June 1 through Sept. 10 of each year with on-call service the remainder of the year.

Russell G. Lewis, who conducts passenger service between San Francisco and Angel Island, Sausalito and Angel Island and San Francisco and Sausalito and loop service out of San Francisco and Sausalito, protested the granting of the certificate.

In the commission's decision it was stated that public convenience and necessity would best be served by having more than one vessel providing the service.

Woman Must Answer To Arson Charge

Mrs. William Gale of Petaluma is to appear in Sonoma County Superior Court May 13 to answer a charge that she paid an arsonist to fire five insured buildings which she owned just north of Petaluma.

Mrs. Gale pleaded innocent to arson charges in Santa Rosa Municipal Court. The man who says he was hired to burn the three cottages and two garages, David S. Aughtman, 22, has pleaded guilty to arson and is awaiting sentence. Aughtman was discharged from the Air Force in February from Hamilton Air Force Base as an undesirable person.

Authorities in Santa Rosa say the buildings were insured for a $16,000 total.

His Kind Of Fun

PITTSBURGH (AP) — James Pearce, 9, was reported missing from his home in nearby St. Clair Village.

James' mother and father were worried. The neighbors were worried. Searching police were worried.

But all this worry changed to a slight flare of anger and then to laughter when James showed up safe and sound.

He'd been perched in a tree near his home watching the search party until it got too cold and he decided he'd had enough fun.

HOWARD DA SILVA
In one of many roles

Noted Actor Jewish Center To Appear At

Howard Da Silva, noted for creating a wide range of memorable character parts on stage and screen, will appear as the final artist of the Marin Jewish Community Center's "Signature Series" at the center in San Rafael next Thursday at 8:15 p.m.

Da Silva's one-man show will be called "An Evening With Sholom Aleichem." He will project himself into the roles of characters created by the noted Yiddish humorist.

Da Silva played the role of Jud in "Oklahoma" and was the gentle White Knight in Eve Le Gallienne's production of "Alice in Wonderland." He starred in Orson Welles' production of "The Cradle Will Rock" and in the Rodgers and Hammerstein production of "Burning Night." Last year, he played the prosecuting attorney in the Boardway presentation of Meyer Levin's controversial play, "Compulsion."

Tickets will be on sale at the door on a first-come, first-served basis.

Mill Valley Building Permit Value Drops

There were 11 fewer building permits issued in Mill Valley in April of this year than for the same month in 1959.

There were 21 permits issued this year totaling $78,301. This included three residences amounting to $51,000, according to building inspector Preston L. Canfield. There were 32 permits issued in April of 1959, totaling $214,706.

Grand Jurors Claim Castro Planned Flight

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — A federal grand jury charges that a flight by two American pilots to Cuba March 21—cited by the Cuban press at the time as "another example of American intervention" — was arranged by the Fidel Castro government.

An indictment made public yesterday accused the fliers, William J. Shergalis of Hollywood, Fla., and Howard L. Rundquist, who is reportedly a native of San Rafael, of having departed from the United States for Cuba without filing a flight plan as required under Federal Aviation Agency regulations.

Shergalis, 33, and Rundquist, 35, are understood to be in the custoday of the Cuban government, the Justice Department said in Washington. It said it had "no immediate plans for seeking to extradite them back to the United States."

Cuba complained in March that a light plane flown by Shergalis and Rundquist flew from Miami to Cuba to pick up political foes of Castro and fly them to the United States.

Speech Scheduled On Flying Objects

What do unidentified flying objects mean to us?

That question is the subject of a talk to be given at 8 p.m. tomorrow at Isabel Cook School, San Anselmo, by Isaphene McGuire, national recording secretary of the Understanding Organization. The meeting will be sponsored by Understanding Unit 31 of Marin County.

Mrs. McGuire is said to have seen a large unidentified flying object near Twentynine Palms.

ANIMAL WELFARE POSTERS DISPLAYED

Lynne Ferrero, sixth grade pupil at E Street School in San Rafael, stands beside her first-prize poster in contest conducted by Marin County Humane Society in connection with Be Kind To Animals Week. Display of animal posters, photographs, scrapbooks and ceramics at the school will continue tomorrow from 2 to 5 p.m. It is the "biggest ever," according to Principal Harold Delma. Larkspur City Council Hears Street Report

Bringing Larkspur's present and future streets up to standard would require a $4,296,000 outlay between now and 1980—not figuring on inflation.

That figure was given the Larkspur City Council last night by John C. Oglesby, city engineer, from a street deficiency report prepared for the state Division of Highways and approved by the council.

40 MILES INVOLVED

It covers the building or improvement of 40 miles of streets.

Oglesby displayed a map showing plans for two major arterials through the city, each carrying two lanes of traffic. He said he had convinced state Division of Highways engineers that this plan would be preferable to one four-lane arterial.

Earlier, the veteran city engineer, who has served Larkspur in that capacity since 1914, came in for some scathing criticism from Alfred J. Malvino of 87 Dartmouth drive.

COMPLAINT VOICED

Malvino repeated complaints voiced at earlier council meetings about a breakup of the Magnolia avenue extension near Bon Air Bridge. He blamed it on the omission of soil tests.

Oglesby said the breakup was caused by "an underground drain that nobody knew was there," and which was disturbed by excavation for the street extension.

Staunchly defending his design for the road, Oglesby said Marin County "has spent three or four times as much" in maintenance of its road at the opposite end of Bon Air Bridge as correction of the breakup has cost the City of Larkspur.

NEW COUNCILMAN

New Councilman Lesly A. Daveler, participating in his first regular meeting, recommended that "we request Mr. Oglesby to forward to the planning commission for its use the road standards used in Larkspur streets."

Snorted Mayor H. H. (Steve) Wheeler, "Road standards are something the planning commissioners could not understand if they were all triplets."

El Paso, Tex., (pop. 132,000) is the largest city on the United States-Mexican border.

Texas has 555 hospitals, more than any other state.

BECAUSE OF BILLBOARD

Larkspur Planners Face Cut In Power

The Larkspur Planning Commission stands to lose some of its power, all because of a giant billboard.

The billboard—10-by-40 feet in size, raised on 30-foot stilts and lighted on both sides—was approved for James Stockman, proprietor of the Edgewater Inn, by the Larkspur planners. The planning board granted a variance to permit the big sign on a finger of land, now zoned residential, which Stockman leased from the Northwestern Pacific Railroad Co.

It was a victory for Stockman in his longtime battle with officials of neighboring Corte Madera, where the Edgewater Inn is located, for a big sign to advertise his motel.

A battery of objectors, representing the Town of Corte Madera, Fifer Industrial Park and the Madera Gardens Development Corp., were on hand at last night's Larkspur City Council meeting.

They presented their reasons as to why the sign should not be permitted. But they were without standing., City Atty. Samuel W. Gardiner ruled.

The interim zoning ordinance under which Larkspur is now operating provides that a variance application can be appealed to the city council only by one of the parties involved. Gardiner pointed out. The parties, he said, are Stockman and the planning commission—nobody else.

And Stockman wasn't appealing. He was so well satisfied he volunteered to reduce the size of the sign.

Gardiner's opinion left the council powerless to do anything about the variance. But it caused three council members—Mayor H. H. (Steve) Wheeler, Arthur E. Storhaug and James Lienkaemper—to promise there'll be some rewriting of the zoning ordinance so as to bring variances before the council for review.

Meanwhile, Councilman Daniel Allen, in the role of peacemaker, won an agreement from Stockman to hold back on putting up the sign until he can work out some kind of compromise to at least partially satisfy the Fifers and Corte Madera.

The fifth council member, Lesly A. Daveler, took some swipes at another ordinance, as interpreted by the planning commission, when the council was presented with notice of the planners' approval of the tentative map of Piedmont Terrace subdivision.

That was something else about which the council could do nothing, attorney Gardiner advised.

Final subdivision maps come before the council for approval; but only the planning commission acts on the tentative maps. By the time a final map is presented, the streets are already graded and the utilities installed.

Daveler sought permission to meet with the planning commission and City Manager Ronald E. Piper about the matter.

"In my opinion," said Piper, "there is a complete controversy in the subdivision ordinance itself."

Larkspur To Construct Building For Storage

The Larkspur City Council last night gave City Manager Ronald E. Piper permission to proceed with the erection of a temporary corporation yard building on filled land adjoining Henry C. Hall School.

Piper made it plain he considered the location an "interim" solution to the city's need for a place to store equipment and supplies under cover.

"The ground is unstable, not really fit to put a building on," he said. He recommended there be no permanent foundation, and that the building be a prefabricated metal one. It will do, he said, until Larkspur can buy a more suitable site.

Councilman Arthur E. Storhaug moved Piper be given the authority to proceed. Approval was unanimous.

Councilmen James Lienkaemper and Lesly A. Daveler, attending their first regular meeting of the council since their election April 12, drew their share of assignments.

Daveler was appointed the council representative on the recreation commission, succeeding Orrin W. Gray, who failed to win re-election.

Mayor H. H. (Steve) Wheeler also filled out the recreation commission by naming Martin O'Brien, with council approval, to a vacancy.

Lienkaemper was appointed the council's finance officer.

Also at last night's Larkspur City Council meeting:

1. Councilman Daniel Allen was appointed to represent Mayor Wheeler at a meeting of the Marin cities' selection committee for the Bay Area Air Pollution Control Authorty on Monday at 10 a.m. in the courthouse. The meeting will name a successor to Arthur Kanzee Jr. of Ross, who has said he does not wish to serve longer on the smog control board.
2. Allen was authorized also to represent Larkspur at tonght's meeting in Berkeley on formation of the Associated Bay Area Governments, with instructions to vote in favor of forming the proposed association.
3. The council received a letter from David Scott, thanking Police Chief Howard Clark and City Manager Piper for prompt action in correcting a parking problem on King street.
4. Allen was named to attend a public hearing next Thursday of the Golden Gate Authority on the possibility of using the Golden Gate Bridge for rapid transit. The city took no official position on the matter.
5. Developer Niels Schultz Jr. was granted an extension until June 3, 1961, for filing the final map of Greenbrae subdivision 15.
6. E. A. Buck was granted permission to build a garage on what is actually part of the Magnolia avenue right of way, with the condition that the city does not relinquish its right to use the land for street widening at some future time.
7. Piper was granted permission to use $2,067.90 of $5,000 budgeted toward the Greenbrae firehouse to purchase two fixed radio stations and four mobile units for fire and police equipment. Daveler shook his head at the procedure.
8. Piper informed the council there are not yet enough signatures to qualify petitions for the Orange-Holly-Tamalpais Avenues Assessment District. The petitions will continue to be circulated.
9. Piper reported agreement by the Tamalpais High School District staff to relocation of an extension of Doherty drive, to connect with Lucky drive on high school property. City Engineer John C. Oglesby was instructed to draw up cost estimates. Piper is to attempt to work out a division of costs with the high school district.
10. A resolution was adopted establishing a taxi stand for the Redwood Cab Co. at 478A Magnolia avenue.
11. Public hearings on rezoning of the Garden Spot Nursery property and Bon Air Hill Addition were set for June 1.
11. Warrants totaling $13,731.96 were approved.
12. The council adjourned to May 18.

'Cat' Owner To Get One Last Notice

The Larkspur City Council sicked its legal terrier last night on contractor P. H. Vincilione's "cats."

The cats are of the earth-moving variety. They're parked in a big lot on Magnolia avenue in a residential zone where they've drawn many complaints from neighbors as being unsightly.

The planning commission had given Vincilione until May 3 to move the equipment. Came May 3 and 4—and the cats were still there, reported City Manager Ronald E. Piper. The planning commission requested the council to "take the necessary steps to enforce provisions of the zoning ordinance."

That's where the council called in the "terrier," in the person of City Atty. Samuel W. Gardiner.

Gardiner was authorized to send Vincilione one last notice, giving him another 15 days to remove the offending equipment and clean up the lot. If Vincilione doesn't do it, Gardiner will take the matter to court.

Lagunitas School To Buy Services

Approval was given by the Lagunitas School District board last night to contracts to be made with the county schools office for audio-visual equipment and library services.

Through this arrangement a payment of $1.50 per pupil will be made to the county office for audio-visual services and $100 per unit of 35 pupils for supplemental library books.

It was also decided to allow the county to arrange for next year's auditing in conjunction with several other schools at cost considerably less than if independent arrangement were made, according to Supt. Clifford L. Frye.

Belvedere's Building Permit Value Drops

Seven building permits were issued in Belvedere last month, building inspector Britton Rey reported. This compares with 11 for April, 1959.

Permits were issued on two new buildings at $43,900; three additions at $22,196 and two other structures at $1,050, totaling $67,146. Last year the total was $160,550.

Mill Valley Slates Road Improvment

The Mill Valley City Council last night authorized the city manager and city attorney to acquire the right of way of Lomita drive between East Blithedale avenue extension and Roque Moraes drive in order that it might be improved.

When this has been accomplished, the council indicated, it will close Roque Moraes, which was described as "a dangerous exit from Enchanted Knolls," and blacktop Lomita drive.

A turnaround would be placed at Roque Moraes where it is to be closed off as it would then be a dead-end street. City Engineer Stanley M. Bala estimated cost of the work to be about $500.

Money has been appropriated to do this work now, City Manager A. E. Almcrants said, but not enough to do anything more extensive. He suggested that Enchanted Knolls residents be asked to give the improvement "their blessing" and this will be done.

Bala showed plans for developing the area with a change in the location of a 300-foot culvert under Blithedale avenue. He suggested trying to acquire land for a proposed four-lane road. Bala estimated the first stage of his plan would cost $35,000.

Almcrants said Bala's plan would take another bond issue. "The money just isn't there."

The council also:

1. Presented resolutions and certificates of appreciation to Mrs. Elizabeth A. Rodman and Peter H. Behr, former councilmen.

2. Continued a public hearing to May 18 on a request to change the zoning of a portion of Garden Hill, unit 2, from one-acre to 10,000-square-foot parcels.

3. Approved the Howard Lane subdivision on Fern Canyon road with provision that the street fronting the Lane property be paved with a lower grade of paving than normally requested. The street would not be accepted for city maintenance.

4. Denied an appeal of Spiliotis and Co. for plan approval and a variance to build a 25-unit apartment building at 230 Miller avenue, sustaining the planning commission's decision.

5. Accepted City Treasurer William G. Rutherford's bond.

6. Recommended that Elaine avenue be not accepted by the city for maintenance, on recommendation of the city engineer. It is to be considered again after the 1960-61 rains.

7. Instructed the city attorney to prepare a resolution to eliminate two-hour parking from the center of Miller avenue between Reed and Evergreen streets.

8. Agreed to cooperate with the Mill Valley Chamber of Commerce in its efforts to open an office in the city-owned Greyhound building. The chamber, according to secretary-manager Granville L. Beedle, will put a door in the building facing Throckmorton avenue.

9. Declared May 14-21 International Week in Mill Valley following reading of a request from Thomas R. Mathews, an American Field Service exchange student last year.

10. Agreed to use of Throckmorton avenue in front of Old Mill School for a roller derby between 1:30 and 3 p.m., June 11, by Cub Scout Pack 28.

ROSE ROYALTY — Marie Hindringer of Santa Rosa will reign as Queen of the Roses at the Luther Burbank Rose Festival in her home city, May 9-15.

'Bike-O-Rama' Slated At School In Novato

A "bike-o-rama" obstacle course and safety check climaxed by free ice cream for young riders is scheduled Saturday at the Marion School grounds in Novato.

The program, from 10 a.m. to noon, is sponsored by the Novato Kiwanis Club with the aid of the California Highway Patrol.

Pastor Sees Death Jump From Bridge

Rev. William Boyle of 16 W. Blithedale avenue, Mill Valley, assistant pastor of Our Lady of Mt. Carmel Church, caught a glimpse of a man leaping off the Golden Gate Bridge as he was driving across the span at 9:10 o'clock last night.

He reported to the California Highway Patrol that he was northbound and, when about 300 yards south of the middle of the bridge, he saw a man in dark trousers and white shirt going over the rail. The subsequent search resulted in the finding of a coat lying on the sidewalk with a wallet containing identification cards of Carl Fisher of Belleview, Pa.

A Coast Guard search started within 20 minutes, but the body had not yet been found today.

CARYL HAD DAUGHTER ATTORNEY DISCLOSES

Caryl Chessman went to his death in the San Quentin Prison gas chamber without revealing the existence of a 17-year-old daughter, according to attorney George T. Davis.

Davis, who aided Chessman in his 12-year effort to escape the death penalty, said the convict-author refused to disclose the identity of the "real Red Light Bandit" because he feared his daughter would be harmed.

The convict-author was executed Monday morning for the "Red Light Bandit" crimes of kidnaping, robbery and sex perversion. He was convicted in Los Angeles in 1948.

The attorney refused to give any more details about the daughter other than to say she was born to a wife Chessman married in 1940. The two were divorced in 1945, and Chessman's ex-wife remarried, as did Chessman.

"It was a tough decision for Chessman," the attorney said yesterday. "He was living there on Death Row where the code is different from yours and mine. After all, on the one hand there was his own life—and on the other that of his daughter."

Davis refused to identify either the girl or her mother.

Place Of Chessman's Burial Still Undecided

Rosalie Asher, one of Caryl Chessman's attorneys, still must make a decision on where the executed convict's ashes will be buried.

Spokesmen for the Harry M. Williams Mortuary of San Rafael, in charge of the cremation, said the ashes are still at the crematorium at Mt. Tamalpais Cemetery, and that Miss Asher had told them to "let the matter stand until I get there and make a decision."

Miss Asher, in seclusion at her home in Sacramento' did not tell the mortuary representative if she had any specific idea in mind.

Meanwhile Dr. Isadore Zifferstein, a Los Angeles psychiatrist who fought against Chessman's execution, received from Brazilian industrialist Diacamo Franco the following cablegram: "Disgust over burial refusal increases tremendously. Arranged authorization burial, Rio de Janeiro or Brazilia Cemetery.

The reference was to the refusal by Forest Lawn at Glendale to accept Chessman's ashes because he died an agnostic. Chessman's mother is buried there.

The Rio de Janeiro newspaper Diario da Noite launched a campaign to send Chessman's ashes to Brazil for burial if they are excluded from cemeteries in the United States.

Guido Babit, director Brazil's Varig Airlines, offered to transport the ashes if the authorities will allow it.

FRANK DISCUSSION

Planners, Council Thaw 'Cold War'

By WAT TAKESHITA

A long-standing "cold war" between the San Rafael Planning Commission and the city council thawed considerably yesterday with an hour and one-half of frank talk at their face-to-face meeting in about two years.

Members of both council and planning commission agreed that the straight-from-the-shoulder chat had cleared the air. They decided to hold similar meetings about twice a year hereafter.

With Mayor John F. McInnis as moderator, Planning Commission Chairman Pat Hetherton laid his cards on the table with the following three points:

1. Not enough consideration is given to many of the planning commission's recommendations. The planners give recommendations after careful study. City councilmen then reverse the recommendations in a few minutes.

2. The planning staff needs bolstering, both in personnel and salaries. The planner must be able to devote more time to planning and less to administrative details.

3. City fathers should weigh each rezoning with great care, because a change in density can create other problems.

Hetherton said he recognizes that "the city council is the boss," but he asked for more consideration of planning commission recommendations.

Councilman Charles W. Aby replied that in many cases where planning decisions are appealed to the council, background information on how the planners had arrived at a decision is not presented.

Then everyone pitched in with complaints, queries and replies. The concensus:

A lack of communication between the planning commission and the council is causing most of the misunderstanding.

Councilman Fred Jensen asserted the city planner often presents his personal views to the council without limiting his presentation to a reflection of the planning commission's views.

The mayor asked City Manager Dan E. Andersen to make sure that the planning commission's views are adequately presented to the council hereafter.

On the problem of beefing up the planning staff, the mayor asked the planning commissioners to present their requests on office space needs and personnel at the budget hearings that will start in about two weeks.

Planning Commissioner Carl Brown asked for clerical help for acting planner Joan Castrillon. He pointed out that if she is to attend council meetings, some provision must be made for transportation back to her Sausalito home at night because she does not drive. The city manager agreed to handle that problem.

Here are some of the other specific points of friction brought up at the meeting:

Gene O'Connor declared the council adopted a setback policy along First street. When a developer asked for an apartment on First, the planners turned it down because it would encroach on the setback line adopted by the council.

"But the council turned around and granted it. You sort of pulled the rug from out of under our feet," said O'Connor.

"If that was your attitude, then why didn't you let us know?" Brown added.

Councilman David Menary Jr. said this comes from the mechanics of running the city. Problems come to the planners first, then go to the council for review or appeal. The council does not decide on a policy until after a particular problem has come before the planners. "And so I don't think this is a legitimate gripe," said Menary.

Planning commissioner Orlando Conti declared his complaint was on a Terra Linda Valley apartment development where the planners recommended 250 units "and you gave them 350 units." Conti said he felt 350 units would create too high a density.

Councilman Louis H. Baar charged that professional planners are demanding more and more space. Land is getting less and less. "You end up with wide areas to be maintained." He said it is ridiculous to require 2,000 to 2,500 square feet per apartment unit when the county's maximum is about 1,500 square feet.

Conti explained he wants controls on density because he has seen an apartment building that has cars parked all over the setback area. "I detest it; it stinks," Conti steamed.

Baar said he knows of 48 units on 45,000 square feet, and the apartment building is a thing of beauty. "But you can't tell one contractor he's no good," said Conti. He said the planners must depend on zoning restrictions to keep the contractors in line.

Conti's other project is his proposal to make Medway road a "beautiful entrance way to the Canal street homes." He does not want the entrance cluttered up with factory buildings. This area is in the East San Rafael Assessment District, where the planners have insisted on apartment zoning while the council has stuck to commercial and light industrial.

The Medway "gateway" idea is "my baby," Conti declared. He asked for serious consideration when it comes before the council. City fathers agreed it would get it.

O'Connor urged that a right of way be provided along Bellam boulevard so that a thoroughfare will be reserved for a road from Francisco boulevard over the canal to San Pedro road. This thoroughfare is needed to serve the coming developments on McNear's Ranch, he said.

Charles Hendrickson, just reappointed for another term on the planning commission, suggested that more technical planning go into the existing areas of San Rafael before the city annexes new land.

All agreed that the frank airing of views had dissolved most of the friction. The city manager will arrange another meeting in six months.

Smog Board Passes Rule To Curb Pollution By Industry

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Regulation 2 to control industrial air pollution in the Bay Area was passed unanimously yesterday by the board of directors of the Bay Area Pollution Control District.

The directors set Jan. 1, 1961, for the regulation to become fully effective.

It will control industrial incineration, heating and power generation facilities and material handling.

The regulation requires registration by Sept. 1, 1960. Operators who are not able to comply by the Jan. 1, 1961 date were asked to submit a compliance schedule by next Oct. 1.

Among its many other tasks, helicopters deliver payrolls to river barges which are on the move up and down stream.

Clerk Of Larkspur School Board Quits

Mrs. Doris Barck of Corte Madera, clerk of the Larkspur School District board, resigned from the board last night.

She told the board she and her husband, William, plan to sell their home in Madera Gardens and move to Livermore in Alameda County, where Barck is employed in a radiation laboratory.

The county superintendent will appoint a successor to Mrs. Barck, to serve until the next trustee election in May of 1961.

Her fellow board members accepted the resignation and presented a silver bowl to Mrs. Barck. She is a past president of Neil Cummins Parent-Teacher Assn.

The board told Supt. Vaughn D. Seidel to proceed with obtaining applications for a $498,000 state loan, approved by the voters Tuesday, and get started on plans for the new elementary school. Voters also approved a $412,000 bond issue for the new school and additions to existing schools.

Negotiations also will get under way on the price of a 10-acre site in Mariners Cove for the new school.

Seidel said the more than 200 pupils from Mariners Cove are already overcrowding Cummins School.

The board commended Clifford Worth for his job as chairman of the citizens committee promoting the bond issue and state loan proposal, and Gilbert Slusher, principal of Larkspur-Corte Madera School, for his part in furnishing information and statistics to the committee.

The matter of salary schedules for 1960-61 was turned over to a committee for study in detail. The committee, composed of Trustees M. K. Taylor and Jack L. Mengel, will report in two or three weeks, Seidel said.

The board also:

1. Decided to ask the California Highway Patrol and California State Automobile Assn. to discuss with the board the setting up of junior traffic patrols.
2. Decided to ask the Larkspur City Council to consider making a safer crossing of Magnolia avenue near Henry Hall School.
3. Authorized signing of a contract for the 1959-60 official audit with Weiser, Dreiman and Weseman of Oakland for $500, the same price the firm charged last year.
4. Accepted resignations from Kreig Vezie, teacher for the mentally handicapped; Carl Heaton, fifth grade teacher at Hall School, and Frances Fullerton, second grade teacher at Cummins.
5. Decided to canvass the votes in Tuesday's election in a few weeks, to await return of eight absentee ballots.
6. Granted permission to the Larkspur-Corte Madera Community Fourth of July Fireworks Display Committee to use Cummins playground for the display.

New Street Lights Due In Mill Valley

The lights will be brighter outside the library, Park School and Tamalpais High School as a result of the Mill Valley City Council's move last night authorizing bigger street lamps at those locations.

The council felt the action should be taken for safety reasons.

Mayor Robert D. Huber again urged that Tamalpais Union High School District help Mill Valley in regard to the Miller avenue and Camino Alto intersection in front of the high school. "I feel it is a mutual problem that should be worked out jointly," he said.

This statement was made after the reading of two letters from Tam district Supt. Chester G. Carlisle. In one, Carlisle told the city council that the district could not expend funds for the payment of a part-time patrolman to provide traffic control at the intersection. The other letter advised that the board of trustees recommends stop signs be installed at the crossing, as well as better illumination. The board criticized the short periods that a city traffic officer is stationed at the crossing.

The matter will be discussed again May 18 at the city council meeting, at which representatives of the Parent-Teachers Assn. will take part, Huber said.

"Well," the janitor replied "they gen'rally has a little in the next room."

New Officers Elected By Medical Staff

Dr. Joseph J. Alderson has been elected new president of the medical staff of San Rafael General Hospital, it was announced today. He will take office July 1, succeeding Dr. William R. Smart.

Other new officers named at the annual meeting of the staff are Dr. Sam Hanzel, vice president, and Dr. Theodore D. Hiatt, secretary.

New departmental chiefs are Dr. M. Alden Van Pelt, surgery; Dr. Herbert Lee, assistant chief in surgery; Dr. Lee M. Cecil, medical service; Dr. Ronald B. Mackenzie, general practice, and Dr. Nicholas S. Pedersen, special services.

Four physicians were voted to staff membership at the meeting. They are Dr. Frederick W. Coe of San Anselmo, internal medicine; Dr. F. W. Kohout of Mill Valley, internal medicine; Dr. Edward C. Sargent of Terra Linda, obstetrics and gynecology, and Dr. Andrew Noble of San Anselmo, pediatrics.

A new formula paint which will kill or repel insects is now in the development stage.

Church Holdup Suspects Handed To Juvenile Court

Two San Rafael youths, accused of the "two-bit" holdup of St. Rita's Church Tuesday night, were turned over to Marin Juvenile Court yesterday.

Juvenile authorities will decide whether they should be prosecuted in juvenile court or whether one or both should be tried in adult court.

Harry Lester Huffman, 16, of 4 Hamilton court, San Rafael, is accused of being the masked gunman who jammed a sawed-off rifle against a parishioner's stomach during a card party and took off with the receipt box. He got only 25 cents.

Robert Alexander Donohoe, 20, of 42 Hillview drive, San Rafael, is suspected as the getaway driver. Sheriff's deputies and highway patrolmen nabbed the pair in Marinwood a half hour after the 9 p.m. holdup. They found a loaded, sawed-off rifle in the car.

McLish Joins Pitchers Who Just Love Candlestick Park

Willie Mays and Cal McLish are old barn-storming buddies but you couldn't have proved it after their meeting here yesterday.

Mays, who played ball with the Cincinnati right hander on the bus circuit in 1958, not only went hitless for the first time this season with McLish hurling but also fanned twice. Willie had hit safely in 16 straight games.

"He has a darn good cure," Mays said after the San Francisco Giants suffered a 3-2 setback at the hands of McLish and the Reds yesterday. "I remember seeing a lot of it when we were barnstorming. But that doesn't mean you can hit it."

Today Johnny Antonelli (1-0) made his debut in Candlestick Park against the Reds' Bob Purkey (0-1).

McLish, now 1-2, went the distance for the first time this season yesterday while thwarting San Francisco's bid to pull into a first place tie with Pittsburgh.

Cal was in hot water a lot, but always climbed out of it with the aid of his sweeping hook and a sharp infield. The Giants had men on base in every inning except the seventh and ninth. Two double plays, both triggered by shortstop Roy McMillan who also knocked in the winning run, kept McLish in business.

Jack Sanford pitched the first six innings for San Francisco while being nicked for his first loss of the season. Southpaw Billy O'Dell finished up after the burly right hander went out for a pinch hitter.

GO-AHEAD RUN

The Reds put the go-ahead run on base in the sixth when Gus Bell opened up by walking, reached third via a wild pitch and infield out, then came across on McMillan's sharp single to left field. That broke a 2-2 tie.

The Giants got off fast, scoring a run in the first inning when Mays hit a sacrifice fly to center which brought in Don Blasingame.

Cincinnati scored twice in the fourth with one run tallying as Tony Gonzales hit into a double play and another coming across on Ed Bailey's one bagger.

The Giants pulled even in their half of the fourth on Willie Kirkland's fourth homer of the season.

Cubs Can Grimm; Too Nice To Take Beating

CHICAGO (AP)—In an unprecedented baseball swith, former American League pilot Lou Boudreau today took over from Charlie Grimm as manager of the Chicago Cubs.

In effect, Boudreau handed a radio microphone to 62-year-old Grimm in exchange for managership of the wobbily Cubs after a typically abrupt decision by Cub owner P. K. Wrigley Wednesday.

The unpredictable Wrigley, who on three separate occasions had named Grimm as Cub boss, decided he didn't want to see jolly Cholly "take a beating" and named Boudreau, 42, manager as "just plain common sense."

Boudreau former star shortstop and manager of the Cleveland Indians, Boston Red Sox and Kansas City A's took over direction of the Cubs shortly after the Chicagoans posted a 5-1 triumph over the Pittsburgh Pirates. Boudreau has been commentator on Cub games for the past two seasons. He supplemented the play-by-play by Jack Quinland on WGN.

Now, the pride of suburban Harvey, Ill.—an athletic legend on the University of Illinois campus—can translate into action some of the ideas which he said have been going through his mind in the broadcasting booths.

Boudreau, who was replaced by Harry Craft as manager of the Kansas City A's in 1957, said it was a good feeling to get back into uniform again, but in particular the uniform of the Chicago Cubs.

Boudreau was to meet with the players and Grimm today.

"It's a great thrill to be managing in your home town," Boudreau said. "I'm hopeful that the ball will bounce right for me. I also hope that the Cub players will give me the same 100 per cent effort they gave Charlie Grimm."

Grimm, who still remains a vice president of the Cubs, told his successor "May the ball bounce well for you. I can shake your hand and give you best wishes with confidence that the players, Vice President John Holland and Phil Wrigley will be behind you."

A's Pitcher Injured

BOSTON (AP)—John Tsitouris, Kansas City pitcher, suffered a broken jaw when hit by a line drive in batting practice Wednesday.

MORE TROUT PLANTED IN MARIN LAKES

Youngsters who compete in the Junior Trout Fishing Carnival at Phoenix Lake Saturday will have the opportunity to catch some "fresh fish."

That was reported today by the Department of Fish and Game which said Phoenix has been restocked with catchable-sized trout. The department also said Lake Lagunitas received a similar plant during the week, but the number of fish was not disclosed.

Prior to the start of the trout season last week the Department planted more than 36,000 "catchables" in four Marin Municipal Water District lakes. Apparently the trout population of Phoenix and Lagunitas took a severe loss during the opening week.

Saturday's junior fishing carnival starts at 6 a.m. An entry blank appeared in Tuesday's Independent-Journal.

San Rafael, Drake Win; Clash In Marin 'Crucial' Tomorrow

First place San Rafael Bulldogs and second place Drake Pirates clash tomorrow in the Marin County Athletic League's baseball "game of the week."

To be played at Albert Field in San Rafael at 4 o'clock, this "crucial" will be broadcast by Radio KTIM.

The top contenders warmed up for their showdown with victories yesterday, San Rafael unloading three home runs to clout Novato 13-5 and Drake knocking off Redwood 8-4.

The other game saw Marin Catholic hand Tamalpais its second straight loss, 7-2.

TEAM STANDINGS

Going into tomorrow's action, the standings are San Rafael 3-0, Drake 2-1, Marin Catholic 2-1, Redwood 1-2, Tam 1-2 and Novato 0-3.

Other games tomorrow are Redwood vs. Tamalpais at Albert Field, 6 p.m. and Novato at Marin Catholic, 4 o'clock.

San Rafael's third straight victory yesterday was an explosive affair with 10 of the 13 Bulldog runs coming via the homer route.

Jim Purvis cracked a grand slammer and Mike Cicero and Billy Roberts each batted three-run homers. Three straight walks loaded the bags for Purvis' blow, the league's first grand slam.

Cicero and Purvis each had two hits in three at-bats.

Drake's Pirates were led by Paul White with three runs batted in and Jerry Ard and Mike Bresnan with two RBI's apiece. White and Ard each had three hits and Bresnan two.

Bob Anderson drove across two runs for Redwood.

The booming bat of Ron Blum and the five-hit hurling of Art Quinn paced Marin Catholic past Tam.

Blum drove across four runs with a two-run homer and a pair of singles while Quinn was containing the Indian warclubs.

Lou Piver got two of Tam's base blows.

Line scores:

Ace Tournament Slated May 15 At Marin Golf Club

A lucky golfer shooting a hole in one during the contest sponsored by the American Field Service at the Marin Golf and Country Club May 15 will be the winner of $100, it was announced today.

The ace contest on a 130-yard hole will begin at 10 a.m. and run along with the Celebrity Golf Exhibition starting on the course at 1:30 p.m.; Proceeds will go to the AFS exchange-student program in Marin high schools.

Television and screen stars John Raitt and Robert Sterling will match golfing skills with Harvie Ward, two time winner of the national amateur championship, and Bob Silvestri, former state amateur champion, in the exhibition.

A water ballet will be presented by swimmers under the direction of Ann Curtis Cuneo in the club pool at 12:30 p.m.

BOWLING

Jean's Bit O' Bohemia, led by Dick Wagner's 578 series, has defeated Maier Lavaty for the championship of the Mixed Doubles league at Country Club Bowl. Total pinnage in the three-game title rolloff was 2,002 to 1,932.

Gene Reiman's 523 led the losing team.

Tonight Marin Bowl will form a women's summer league. The organizational meeting will start at 7 o'clock.

Bums All Shook Up! 4th Straight Loss

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The Dodgers are all shook up today because an old pal and an old nemesis returned to haunt them.

Toss in a couple of clutch hits by Del Crandall and it all added up to a triumphant return to Los Angeles for Milwaukee Brave Manager Charlie Dressen and a fourth straight defeat for the stumbling world champions last night.

Manager Walt Alston sought to end the Dodgers' losing streak by shaking up his lineup and starting Don Drysdale on the mound, but Dressen countered with Bob Buhl and the hatchet-faced righthander from Saginaw, Mich., bested the Los Angeles ace, 2-1, with a glittering three-hitter.

CRANDALL HERO

Batterymate Crandall supplied all the offense Buhl needed with a run-producing single in the second inning and a homer that snapped a 1-1 tie in the ninth. Buhl, a long-time Dodger nemesis, whipped them five times last season and now has a 21-8 career record against them.

Buhl was typically wild with six walks, but he struck out five batters and the Braves threw up a tight defense behind him that left seven Dodger runners on base. The victory, the Braves' fifth in six games, moved them to within two games of the first-place Pittsburgh Pirates in what is now a tightly-bunched National League field.

The Chicago Cubs handed the Pirates their second straight loss, 5-1, the Cincinnati Reds shaded the San Francisco Giants and the St. Louis Cardinals beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 5-3, in the other National League games.

The New York Yankees took over first place in the American League when they topped the Detroit Tigers, 4-2, and the Baltimore Orioles downed the Chicago White Sox, 6-4. The Washington Senators beat the Cleveland Indians, 7-6, and the Kansas City A's defeated the Boston Red Sox, 5-3.

Alston's new lineup had Gil Hodges at third base and Bob Aspromonte at shortstop, but the Dodgers were helpless against Buhl except in the fourth inning when a walk, Duke Snider's double and an infield out produced their run. Drysdale's record is now 3-3.

FRIEND BEATEN

Dick Ellsworth, 20-year-old bonus left-hander, pitched a five-hitter for the Cubs, who dealt Bob Friend his first loss with an eight-hit attack that included Frank Thomas' third homer in two days. Ellsworth struck out four and walked none in facing only 31 batters.

Joe Cunningham's two-run single snapped a 3-3 tie in the eighth inning and enabled St. Louis' Marshall Bridges to win his second game. Carl Sawatski had singled to tie the score after an error by shortstop Joe Koppe started the Redbird rally.

The Yankees, who were in seventh place on this date last year, moved into the A.L. lead behind a six-hitter by rookie Bill Short. Elston Howard's two-run homer in the sixth inning was the blow that wrecked Frank Lary, who entered the game with a 21-7 lifetime mark against New York. Roger Maris led the eight-hit Yankee attack with two doubles and a single.

14 In Lineup For Ky. Derby

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Tompion, champion of California, and Bally Ache, best to come out of Florida, head a field of 14 three-year-old horses named today for Saturday's 86th running of the $125,000 added Kentucky Derby.

The only mild surprise as the names of the colts were dropped into the entry box was the failure of Calumet Farm, winner of seven of these runs for the roses, to name two horses.

Trainer Jimmy Jones said Hillsborough would be the lone bearer of the famous Calumet devil-red silks. Pied d'Or had been considered a probable running mate.

If all parade postward to the 12:30 p.m. PDT start, the 1¼-mile trip around Churchill Downs will have a gross value of $160,200 with a net of $116,000 going to the winner.

Tompion, C. V. Whitney's son of Tom Fool with victory in the Santa Anita Derby as a strong recommendations, remained the favorite. But there was growing support for Leonard Fruchtman's Ohio-owned Bally Ache.

Changing Spots

PRATTLEBORO, Vt. (AP)—The spots on America's dairy cows are changing.

"Drive down any road in dairy country and you'll see more of the black and white color pattern of the Holstein breed than ever before," says the Holstein Friesian Assn. of America.

The cattle registry organization says grade and registered Shoal. U.S. Navy and Air Force 60 per cent of America's dairy herds, and produce about 70 per cent of the nation's milk supply.

Tam, Redwood Co-Favored In Marin Swimming Meet

Redwood Giants and Tamalpais Indians, co-favored in the Marin County Athletic League swimming and diving championships Saturday at Tam's pool, splashed to victories in dual meets this week.

Paced by double-winner Dick Chambers, Redwood defeated Drake, 67-28, while Tam was downing San Rafael, 54-40.

Chambers set a Drake pool record by swimming the 400-yard freestyle in 4 minutes, 28.1 seconds. He also copped the 200 individual medley in 2:22.7.

An oddity occurred when Redwood's Dave Corbet and Drake's Pete Sagues tied in both the 50 and 100 freestyle races. They were clocked in 24.4 seconds in the 50 and 54.4 in the century. They'll resume their sensational competition in the MCAL finals Saturday.

Drake's Bob Pringle smashed his school's record for the 100 backstroke in 1:08.8.

Dopesters predict a possible tie for the MCAL title between Tam and Redwood, a unique result that occurred last year when they shared the North Bay League championship.

In Class B competition this week Tam downed San Rafael 54-23 and Drake knocked off Redwood 63-14.

San Rafael freestyler Pete Dawson set a league record of 26.2 seconds in the Class B 50 freestyle. Tam's Tony DePrado won the 50 butterfly in 29.4 seconds and the 100 individual medley in 1:10.8.

Another Fan Dies At Candlestick

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A Southern California man collapsed and died at Candlestick Park yesterday, the fourth man to die at the San Francisco Giants' new stadium since it opened April 12.

Police identified the latest victim as Leo Lawrence Reardon, 68, of Playa del Rey, vice president of Bowey's, Inc., a Los Angeles dairy firm.

Officers said he apparently suffered a heart attack as he walked down a ramp after the Giant-Cincinnati game.

Tam High District's Annual Report Issued

A 1959-60 annual report of the Tamalpais Union High School District has been published for distribution to parents at Tamalpais, Sir Francis Drake and Redwood high schools and elementary schools within the district.

Supt. Chester G. Carlisle said the 16-page report was authorized by the board of trustees for distribution this week.

Dressen And Haney Appear Buddy-Buddy

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Charlie Dressen and the man he succeeded as manager of the Milwaukee Braves, Fred Haney, appeared all buddy-buddy last night at the Los Angeles Dodger-Milwaukee game.

Dressen and Haney—who have carried on a heated and at times comical exchange of remarks about each other in newspaper interviews—appeared friendly with each other as they posed for photographs together and chatted amicably.

Patience With Cepeda, McCovey Will Pay Dividends For Giants

How do you like Orlando Cepeda as an outfielder?

To answer that question, a fellow has to be real kind.

He has to realize that Cepeda isn't an outfielder YET. He has to go along with the kid from Puerto Rico and admit he is a team player.

CONNOLLY

Cepeda is going to lose a few games, along the line, for the Giants. He isn't a finished outfielder. He doesn't yet know how to play certain batters.

But Cepeda is a man of many talents. He has the courage; he has the know-how and he has the will to win. And before he gets through this year, Cepeda will be a good outfielder, maybe not the best, but better than the average.

Many people have suggested that Manager Bill Rigney remove Cepeda in the closing innings and replace him with a more polished and defensive outfielder.

But Skipper Rigney has maintained that if Cepeda is to become proficient, he MUST play regularly and under all conditions.

"I'M GOING to lose a few games here and there," says Rig, "but I'm developing a star. I think Cepeda is going to be the makings of a great outfielder."

Defensively you've got to admit there are a few flaws in Cepeda's work. He isn't a Willie Mays out there, and he isn't a Tris Speaker or Ty Cobb. But he's both of the latter two if you reckon with his hitting.

And while we're on the subject of developing talent, don't forget that Skipper Rigney has a few headaches along the line. He has Willie McCovey to contend with at first base.

McCovey isn't any more graceful than a coal heaver on a wax floor when it comes to playing first base.

BUT McCOVEY is an asset to the Giants. He drives in runs and he hits homeruns. He's a threat all along the line. And not altogether a bad first sacker. Willie is a little awkward shifting his big feet and he hesitates sometimes in the clinches. But taken in all he isn't a wicked fielder or a stupid one, even though you might be inclined to think that way.

I like McCovey because of his style and free and easy manner. He isn't a nifty with the glove, but he imitates guys like Dolph Camilli and Lou Blue.

Before he gets through playing in the National League they are going to remember Willie as a good fielder and a terrific hitter.

It isn't any great secret why Manager Bill Rigney didn't move McCovey from the lineup when he was in the throes of a bad hitting slump. Rigney had no one to replace him when Cepeda was hurt and again he didn't want to hurt McCovey's confidence.

Rigney acted smartly in placing full confidence in McCovey and the faith Rigney had in the kid right now is paying big dividends.

HAD McCOVEY not been so spectacular a hitter in 1959, Rigney might have lifted him. In fact, "Rig" has several notions on the subject. But he kept arguing with himself that anybody who could do what McCovey did in 1959 must come back to that pace in 1960. And that faith paid off for the Giant manager.

One noticeabl change in Rigney's management this year has been his reluctance to remove pitchers who falter. Last year he was impatient with his flingers.

This year Rig goes along with them and sometimes doesn't even worry them with having a relief pitcher ready. I can't say that I agree with him, but so far he has been getting along nicely and I hope for his sake it works out okay.

Tiger Floyd No Match For Johnson In TVer

PHILADELPHIA (UPI) — The problem of finding "willing" opponents continues to plague Harold Johnson, the number one light heavyweight contender who scored a lopsided 10-round decision over Clarence (Tiger) Floyd last night.

The nationally-televised bout was the 31-year-old Philadelphian's 12th consecutive victory, but the winning streak stretches over a four-year period marked with long layoffs because of the lack of opponents.

Floyd, a 27-year-old New York truck driver who broke into the ranks of the contenders with his surprise upset of previously-unbeaten Von Clay two months ago, gladly accepted the bout with Johnson and viewed it as the opportunity to score the upset of the year.

But the "Tiger" looked more like a cheeta most of the night as he backpedaled, sidestepped and danced out of range of the hard-hitting Johnson, who boasts 29 knockouts.

The 178-pounds Johnson, who scored his 63rd win against eight losses, nailed Floyd with a looping left in the sixth round—the first solid punch of the fight—but the Tiger managed to dance away.

Floyd then kept out of range until the ninth session, which began with Referee Pete Tomasco warning the 171-pound New Yorker to fight or he was going to stop the bout.

Floyd followed the referee's advice and started trading punches with Johnson but the muscular Philadelphian soon had the Tiger groggy on the ropes.

Floyd weathered that storm and the subsequent barrage in the final round when he once again stood his grounds only to be outgunned.

K RESHUFFLES RED POLITICAL SETUP

Biggest Shakeup Since '57 Purge Lifts Kozlov To Powerful Party Secretariat

MOSCOW (AP) — A sweeping shakeup in the Soviet government and Communist party organization was announced last night.

The reshuffle — first since the anti-party purge of Georgi Malenkov, V. M. Molotov and Lazar Kaganovich in June, 1957 — left Premier Nikita Khrushchev clearly in command.

It carried ramifications that Western observers regarded as significant in long-range Soviet planning, with apparent emphasis on speeding up his seven-year economic plan and whipping up new enthusiasm in the party machinery by promotion of younger elements.

In a major switch, Frol R. Kozlov, who toured the United States last year to lay the groundwork for Khrushchev's visit, was named to the powerful secretariat of the Communist Party's Central Committee. He had been one of two first deputy premiers. The other, A. I. Mikoyan, remains unaffected by the shakeup.

Harrison E. Salisbury, a New York Times expert on Soviet affairs, said the switch meant an important promotion for Kozlov.

Three new deputy premiers were named.

Alexei Kosygin, 56, chairman of the important state planning committee, moves up to the first deputy premiership Kozlov vacates. Kosygin also becomes a member of the ruling Central Party Presidium.

Nikolai Ignatov, 59, a secretary of the Central Party Committee, was shifted from that post to a deputy premiership. And Vladimir Novikov replaced Kosygin at the head of the State Planning Committee, taking a deputy premiership as well.

Ekaterina Furtseva, 50, highest ranking woman in the Kremlin heirarchy, becomes minister of culture. She was released from her duties as a central committee secretary.

Nikolai Podgorny, 57, party chief in the Ukraine, was elected to the ruling Soviet Party Presidium along with Dmitri Polyansky and Kosygin.

Two other central committee secretaries were relieved "to devote their full time to new assignments" — Averki Aristov and Pyotr Pospelov, going to the bureau of the central committee of the Communist party for the Russian Federation.

FROL R. KOZLOV
Upped by Khrushchev

The ax fell on two ranking officials who already had been downgraded. Alexei Kirichenko, once mentioned as a possible heir to Khrushchev, and Nikolai Belyaev were kicked off of the party presidium.

House Passes Bill For Area Redevelopment

WASHINGTON (AP) — House passage moved a 251 million dollar area redevelopment bill back to the Senate today and put it a step closer to an expected veto.

Its fate could become a major political issue in the presidential campaign.

Designed to give an economic lift to urban and rural areas depressed by chronic unemployment and loss of industry, the bill provides for 198 million dollars more than President Eisenhower had proposed. Its total is only slightly less than was provided in a similar bill vetoed by the President as too costly two years ago.

The decisive House vote came after nine hours of argument and maneuvering during which the bill's opponents resorted to various maneuvers to block consideration. Less than three hours of the session was used for actual debate on the bill's merits.

The House passed the bill 201-184 over the opposition of most Republicans and Southern Democrats.

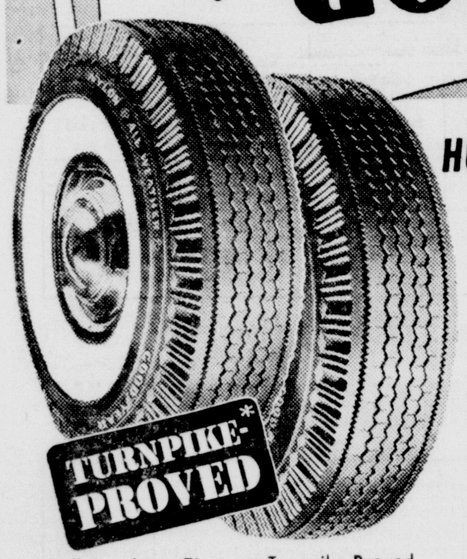

The final vote was far short of the two-thirds necessary to override a veto

Church Group Plans 'Rainbow Radiances'

A promenade of colorful fashions combined with an evening of family enjoyment will take place on May 13 at First Presbyterian Church, San Anselmo, starting at 7:30 p.m. for dessert.

The theme, "Rainbow Radiances," will be portrayed by commentator, Mrs. John Bellamy, Jr., with the musical assistance of Mrs. Elmer Jones. Dr. A. J. Ungersma will be master of ceremonies.

The attractive models that have been recruited by the chairman Mrs. Hans E. Fischel and her co-chairman, Mrs. Bradford Muse, are:

Mesdames Tom Bauer, Robert Spaan, Ira Ahern, H. B. Roberts, William Parker, Roger Hedin, J. W. Bowman, Watson Conner, Weaver Hess, Paul Bodine and Ellen Scott.

For the men: Watson Conner, Dr. Roger Hedin, the Rev. Weaver Hess, Pete Belden, Bob Fitzhenry and Barry McGough.

For the children: Perry Hedin, Smita Singh, Kathryn Bodine, Billy Basore, Marilyn Perry, Brad Spaan, Lynn Wagner, Indrojit Singh, Sally Hart, Darrel Hess, Andrea Hedin, Roger Hess and Nancy Gray.

Mrs. M. S. Imes will have charge of models while Mrs. H. G. Beesley will handle the make-up.

Decorating will be done by Mrs. W. D. Krelle with the assistance of Mrs. Wesley Honeyman. A dessert is planned under the chairmanship of Mrs. Frank Boyer. The serving will be taken care of by Mrs. C. R. Allen.

Tickets may be obtained from Mrs. William R. Davis.

'RAINBOW RADIANCES' will be the theme on May 13 when a promenade of fashions and an evening of family fun is presented by the First Presbyterian Church of San Anselmo. Looking for the rain are, from left, Mesdames Thomas Edwards, publicity; Wesley Honeyman, co-chairman; and Mrs. W. D. Krelle, decorations chairman.

YWCA Announces New Programs In Marin City

Kaye Hunt, director of the YWCA in Marin County, today announced that new programs are planned for location in Marin City, in line with a national and local YWCA trend toward decentralization.

First event of the newly located YWCA program will be a coffee hour and preview of coming YWCA activities, scheduled for Thursday, May 12, 1:30 to 3 p.m. at Marin City Auditorium. Miss Hunt said all Marin homemakers and their friends are welcome to attend and are invited to bring their children. A baby-sitter will be available.

YWCA staff members who will be on hand to greet the guest include Miss Hunt, Mrs. Sallie N. Edwards, associate director of the San Francisco YWCA; and Patricia Tiggard, social group worker for the YWCA's Marin City program.

Jean Burton of Creative Merchandisers in San Rafael will display easy-to-make tile, glass and stone craft and show homemakers how these objects can be designated to decorate their homes.

Miss Hunt said that YMCAs across the nation are decentralizing in order to provide services needed by young families moving out of the cities and into relatively sparsely settled suburban areas where local transportation between towns is not always fully developed.

The Marin counnty YWCA office has been operating as a decentralized unit of the San Francisco YWCA since 1957. Marin headquarters of the YWCA are at 1010 B street, San Rafael.

Hugo Rinaldi Plans A Visit In Italy

Hugo Rinaldi, following a brilliant concert of the Junior Symphony, hoped to leave for Lucca, Italy, where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Rinaldi, long-time San Rafael residents, now spend a great part of their lives in their native surroundings. "Mother Teressa" has not enjoyed good health for many years.

Mrs. Rinaldi's first grand daughter and namesake, Teressa Ann, daughter of Hugo and Marjorie, is following in her father's footsteps in music. The second daughter, Nancy Roberto, is readying herself for the 1961 Junior Symphony. "Uncle Bill" Rinaldi is a member of the San Rafael High School faculty and is now living in the Bon Air apartments in Greenbrae.

MRS. RUSSELL ALGER FLEMING

Fleming-Sheehan Rites Exchanged In Mission

Mission San Rafael Arcangel was the setting for the recent wedding of Alicia Sheehan, daughter of Mrs. Michael J. Sheehan of San Rafael, and the late Mr. Sheehan, and Capt. Russell Alger Fleming of Inglewood, Calif.

White iris were at the altar of the Mission for the 2 o'clock rites with the Rev. John C. Petroni officiating.

Given in marriage by Eugene Tracy, the bride wore a full length gown of Miramist taffeta fashioned with fitted bodice, long pointed sleeves and scoop neckline. The full skirt had appliques of Chantilly lace. Her veil of silk illusion fell from a coronet of Chantilly lace and seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of white iris and bouvardia.

Patricia Woods of Redwood City was maid of honor. She wore a gown of periwinkle blue satin fashioned with a tulip skirt caught at both sides with blue rosettes. Her headdress matched the gown and she carried a shower bouquet of apricot roses.

Lt. Paul C. Radder Jr., of Merced was best man and Capt. Victor Wright of San Rafael escorted guests to their seats.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Sheehan wore a green and white silk print frock with matching accessories. Her flowers were Eucharist lilies.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Russell A. Fleming of Inglewood wore a pink raw silk suit with pink accessories. Her flowers were pink roses.

A reception for 100 guests followed the ceremony at the Hamilton Air Force Base Officers' Club where decorations were carried out with bouvardia.

For a wedding trip to Carmel, the bride chose a smoke beige wool crepe suit with yellow and brown flower hat and contrasting accessories.

The bride was graduated from Butte High School in Butte, Mont., and College of Marin. She was employed by Western Conference of Teamsters prior to her marriage.

The bridegroom was graduated from Dorsay High School and Los Angeles City College. He is a captain in the U.S. Air Force. Mrs. Donald F. Nichols of Los Angeles, and Kenneth R. Fleming of Seattle, are his sister and brother.

The newlyweds expect to make their home in New Jersey where Capt. Fleming is to be transferred.

Music Brings Back Long Gone Days

Walter E. Lurcher of San Rafael especially enjoyed and appreciated the Excerpts From Godunov by Modest Mussorsky (1839-1881) given at the final Marin Symphony concert with Sandor Salgo, conductor, Friday evening. The popular San Rafael businessman and civic worker sang with the chorale at a similar presentation when he lived in Los Angeles.

Guest artist, Roderick Ristobasso, gave a dramatic and realistic performance in Marin in the Godunov opera featuring the "Coronation Scene," "I have attained the highest power," the "Hallucination Scene" and "Death of Boris."

The Winifred Baker Chorale from Dominican College and Dr. John Milton Kelly's Marin Chorale with the Mill Valley Light Opera Company, Cary Smith, director, all combined to join the symphony and Mr. Risto to win salvos of applause. Ushers were members of the Marin youth orchestra.

The concert concluded the series of the eighth season.

Scheiner-Schneider Rites In Mill Valley

Susan Jane Schneider of Mill Valley and James E. Scheiner of Belvedere were married in May Day nuptial rites performed at 2 o'clock at St. Hilary's Church in Tiburon.

For the ceremony performed by the Rev. William J. Boyle the church was decorated with two altar arrangements and two side urns filled with white stock and white croft lilies.

Given in marriage by her father, H. E. Schneider of Mill Valley, Susan recited her vows in a floor length gown of white satin with full skirt and chapel train. The fitted bodice with lace yoke had a scoop neckline and long sleeves. A pearl coronet held her shoulder length veil, and she carried a cascade of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Gowned in yellow silk sheaths with coronets of lilies of the valley on their hair were the maid of honor, Jill Cerwin of Mill Valley, and the bride's two sisters, Mesdames Dennis De Sousa of Mill Valley and Stephen Kacharos of Novato. The bouquet of the maid of honor was a cascade of yellow and white lilies of the valley, yellow glamillias and miniature ivy, and those of the bridesmaids were the same except that the flowers were all yellow.

Best man for the bridegroom, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert William Scheiner of Belvedere, was Malcolm Doyle of Mill Valley, and ushers were James' brother Richard Scheiner, and Richard Barber of Mill Valley.

The bride's mother chose an aqua printed silk fashioned with full skirt and fitted bodice having a round neckline and elbow length sleeves. She completed her costume with a white hat and gloves. The mother of the bridegroom was attired in a turquoise and orchid floral print style with full skirt, three-quarter sleeves and scoop neckline. Her hat was orchid and her gloves white. Each wore a corsage of cattleya orchids.

For the reception at the home of the bride's parents the mantel was decorated with white gladioli and croft lilies in various shades of yellow, and an arrangement in the dining room was a tall champagne glass filled with yellow flowers. The three-tiered cake made by Mrs. Joseph Ancic of Mill Valley, a family friend, was decorated with a miniature bride and bridegroom and encircled at the base with gardenias.

Mrs. Lawrence Baskett of Florida, the bride's third sister, was in charge of the guestbook.

On their return the couple will live at 55 Lomita Drive, Alto.

The new Mrs. Scheiner attended Tamalpais High School and has been working in her father's office in Sausalito. Her husband was graduated from Tamalpais High School and is employed at a market in Marin City.

He has three sisters, Sandra and Norine Scheiner and Mrs. Harold Michael of Kentfield.

Public Health Nurses Hear Meet Reports

The Public Health Nurses Section of the Marin County Nurses Association met recently at the home of Mrs. Tracy Talmage. Highlights of the recent California State Nurses Association Convention were reported on by Mrs. Vera Watson; a social hour followed the business meeting.

Those present were Mesdames Opal Torrance, Tracy Talmage, Helen Engh, Vera Watson, Genevieve Sheppard, Helen Elrod; and the Misses: Margaret Hoff, Irene Schafer, Sarah McNichol, Edna Rockstrom, Margaret Halliday, Rachel Parker.

All public health nurses interested in joining their nursing section should contact Miss Edna Rockstrom at the County School Department.

Camp Fire Girls Set Council Tomorrow

To Marin County Camp Fire Girls, May brings—not flowers—but Grand Council Fires. This is the time when recognition is made of advancement and honors earned during the year. The first of these Council Fires will be held tomorrow at the Ruby Scott Auditorium, Mill Valley.

This Council Fire for District I will open with a candle lighting ceremony by Sheryl Bush, Mary Stroh, and Debby Dolman. Annie Chen and Wendy McNeill will be the honor guard for a large prop birthday cake. Each group will place an unlighted candle on the cake and give their donations toward the national and local birthday celebrations in January, 1961, at which time the candles will be lit.

Receiving Golden Jubilee Honors for having participated the past year in the tree census and tree planting program, will be the Blue Bird groups of Mesdames Robert Frost, Harold Bright, John Sullivan, Reginald Darrow, Frank Hensel, G. J. Russo, H. S. Folker, W. N. Thorpe Jr., and M. J. Frick and the Camp Fire groups of Mesdames Ernest Kroner, John Roberts, Robert Sinclair, and H. Puharich.

For having brought new members into their groups, Golden Jubilee Charms will be awarded to Pamela Kroner, Diane Turner, Valerie Lanham, Lynn Clark, Charlene Reece, Kathy Sinclair, Sheryl Bush, Pamela Wood, Alice Wilkie, Sue Folker, and Julie Cook by Mr. Irvin H. Sutley, Adult Membership Chairman of District I.

Mrs. William Treverton will greet Meagan Elliott, Marilyn Jones, Robin Pritzler, Charlene Reece, Lynn Clark, Cathy Sinclair, Linda Seibell, Hilary King, Terry Puharich, Betty Prange, Sharon Ann Maxon, Kimberly Mitchell, Ginger Pierroz, Linda Christopherson, Mary Lou Myers, Kathy Samilson, Tina Diaz, Cathy Loeb, Diane Turner, Geraldine Dennard, Odessa Battle, Norma Stone, Valerie Lanham, Annie Johnson, Gwendolyn Brown, Cathy Loeb, and Michele Griffen as new Trail Seekers.

Receiving Wood Gatherers certificates from Mrs. Edwin Reynolds will be Cathy Loeb, Susan Schuyler, Tina Loeb, Jane Cleaveland, Charlotte Millis, Janet Long, Frances Moitza, Patty Rohl, Margaret Hoopinger, Karen Fiske, Patty Eckhard, Gail Thiede, Claudia Bright, Pami Kroner, Jill Martin, Janet Krone, Lois Clymer, Judith Goodman, Susan Turnipseed, Terry Mainini, Vicki Pascual, and Debbie Whitney.

Closing this gala occasion for another year will be Susan Binckley, Frances Silverthorn, and Linda Frank extinguishing the candles.

'This Is Your Life' Show Honors Marion Principal

Installation of officers at the Marion School P-TA meeting recently was followed by a surprise program when the "Music in the Home" theme was changed to "This is Your Life, Earl Farris," honoring the school principal.

This was a take-off on the Ralph Edwards show and was a complete surprise to Farris. It was opened with the use of pictures flashed on the screen showing Farris as a child, as a student, on the job, at college, as a navy ensign and then a lieutenant commander, and as a teacher.

Special guests were Mrs. Farris, daughters Sue and Marianne, and Mr. Farris' father, William Farris from Santa Rosa.

On the program were Phil Schneider, Santa Barbara College schoolmate; William J. J. Smith; former students, Barbara Thompson Sparrow and Louise Gnoss Anderson; Dick Lewis of Cotati; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lavararoni; Mr. and Mrs. George Jennings; Robert McKay, fishing pal; Mrs. Roy Kanoff; the Rev. Howard Swartz; and Celia Estes, co-teacher.

Marion School teachers sang an original song "Earl Farris is the One for Us" to the tune of "The Blue Tailed Fly."

Hugh Turner acted as Master of Ceremonies; Jim Rose took charge of the "Applause" cards; and Mrs. Ray Tschache supplied the music and wrote the script.

EARL FARRIS

Officers installed by outgoing president Mrs. Roy Kanoff were Mrs. Robert Money, president; Mrs. George Whitten, first vice-president; Earl Farris, second vice president; Mrs. Robert Boyer, secretary; Mrs. Tony Quintana, treasurer; Mrs. Glenn Dunbar, auditor; Mrs. L. A. Heibel, historian; and Mrs. George Pelmear, parliamentarian.

A flag ceremony was presented by Boy Scout Troop 42. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by Mesdames Armin Gadow, Clarence McCutcheon, R. J. Listman, Grant Nelson and George Bellamy.

JUNE NUPTIAL RITES PLANNED IN NOVATO

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Strombeck of Novato are announcing the engagement and forthcoming marriage of their daugher, Sherry Jeanne, to A 2/c Donald Paul O'Kelley of Oakland.

The bride-elect is the sister of Bruce Strombeck of Novato, and the granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Hanson and Mr. and Mrs. Brent Strombeck all of Minnesota. She was graduated from San Rafael High and was a member of Les Couturieres. She was also graduated from the Powers Modeling School in San Francisco and is employed by Stone and Youngberg Investment Brokers in San Francisco.

The prospective bridegroom, who is the son of Mrs. Roger Ivie and Richard B. O'Kelley of Oakland, was graduated from Oakland High School. He is a member of DeMolay. He is the brother of Rickey O'Kelley of Oakland and his grandparents are Mrs. Pauline Schmidt of Berkeley and Paul Schmidt of Paradise and the late Mr. and Mrs. James O'Kelley of Indiana. He is stationed with the U.S. Air Force at Hamilton Air Force Base.

The wedding will be an event of June 18 at 4 p.m. in the Novato Presbyterian church.

Mothers Play The Leads At Fashion Focus Show

Mothers of all ages, and St. Raphael's Mothers Guild in particular, played the title role in Tuesday's popular Fashion Focus luncheon at Rickey's as it sent catchy "Memos to a Modern Mother."

Mood of the moment for St. Raphael's Mothers Guild was a happy and rewarding one looking back on a most successful year coordinating the spiritual and educational forces of the home and school with many fund raising events to aid St. Raphael's.

"Memos To A Modern Mother" fashionably speaking:

"Always Bright Color" for Mrs. Earl Cummensky via Malbe Originals patchwork calfskinners plus a camel cotton pullover shirt appliqued with patchwork people.

"Take a Day Off," and go to town in Abe Shrader's gray and white pique sheath riding with its matching coat plus a black and white straight sailor for Mrs. Duane Snyder.

"Look Lovely at Luncheon" with Caryle's maple sugar two-piece delight, the tiniest permanent pleats for the skirt, and a saucy cropped top also pleated and stitched in cream embroider for Mrs. David Vattuone, president of St. Raphael's Mothers Guild.

"Get Away From It All," Mrs. George Curry taking along Susan Thomas's three-piece coordinates, the new putty colored slim skirt, hip hugging matching weskit and printed tailored shirt.

"Men Love Chiffon," especially when it's Georgette Trilere's show-stopping turquoise sheath, the bodice of chiffon draping to a new low in back, an important collar of the fitted jacket that chaperons Mrs. Lawrence Luchetti.

"Sing a Song of Silk," the music by Dorothy O'Hara in an abstract silk print of beige, white and gold beautifully draped to accent Mrs. James Sanford.

"White For Night," the magic of white cotton eyelet, fresh, feminine and flattering with tiny spaghetti straps, a bow at the wrist and pretty Mary Vinsilioni.

Mrs. Hall Back From New York

Mrs. Wallace Hall recently returned to her Belvedere and Sacramento homes following an interesting visit in New York City and in Boston. "Betty," a patron of New York stage successes, had time for five hits including "Fiorello" and "Five Finger Exercise." She and her husband, who is assistant state superintendent of schools, enjoyed the wonderful symphony finale Friday evening and greeted many of their warm friends.

Betty had a series of lunches not long ago showing her rare collection of Oriental ceremonial robes and costumes. A camera enthusiast, these gorgeous robes she asked her guests to model for a series of candid shots.

For Royal Wedding

A TV set will be available at the Outdoor Art Club's "Country Fair" tomorrow morning for those who "just can't miss Princess Margaret's wedding," ways and means chairman Mrs. Earle Marsh has announced.

At a luncheon at the home of Mrs. James H. Jenkins, Mrs. James L. Fowler was elected vice president and program chairman, and Mrs. Peter Kennedy, secretary-treasurer. Mrs. Jenkins will continue as membership chairman

Sausalito Club To Visit Base

Members of the Sausalito Woman's Club have been invited to inspect the Nike installations atop Angel Island. Two separate trips are scheduled accommodating 35 members each time. The first is Monday, May 9 and the second Tuesday, May 17. Until the quota is filled, reservations may be made with Mrs. Samuel S. Bloom.

The groups will meet at 11 a.m. at the Fort Baker Army dock on both days. Mrs. Richard F. Phillips, club president, stresses that promptness is essential and advises members to bring a box lunch; beverages to be purchased at the Base. The return boat will leave the Island at 3 p.m. and a most interesting day is anticipated.

"THE CITY THAT HAS EVERYTHING"

AT SAME STAND 30 YEARS—William F. Ward (left) and John H. Campion, who founded the Campion-Ward Prescription Pharmacy at 1350 Fourth street 30 years ago, look over relics from their early days in the business when there were only 10 doctors in San Rafael and they made their own pills and powders. The scales were used to weigh out the compounds that went into the medicines and prescriptions were spiked on long pieces of wire. (Independent-Journal photo)

THEY INTRODUCED SMOCKS

2 Pharmacists Mark 30th Year Milestone

The two San Rafael pharmacists, who introduced the white smock to Marin drug stores when they opened the doors of the Campion-Ward Prescription Pharmacy on Fourth street in 1930, are "quietly celebrating" 30 years in business on the same spot today.

John H. Campion and William F. Ward were both employed in a downtown San Francisco pharmacy when they decided to go into business for themselves. "We wore white smocks in San Francisco and decided to bring them along when we moved," Ward said.

Until then, he related, all Marin druggists attended their prescription counters in ordinary business suits.

Campion, who has been a resident of Ross since his childhood days after the 1906 earthquake and fire, suggested starting a drug store. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Campion, built a home at 20 Chestnut avenue after the San Francisco fire and resided here six months of every year until moving to Marin permanently in 1922.

Campion and Ward had been friends since boyhood days and Ward later married Campion's sister, Rose.

Ward was born in Montana and was brought to San Francisco by his parents when he was 3 years old. He started in the drug business as a messenger boy in 1912.

Both partners were graduated from the University of California school of pharmacy after serving in the armed forces during World War I.

"When we started out there were about 9,000 people in San Rafael and 10 doctors," Campion recalled. "In those days you could judge the size of a town by number of drug stores, figuring one to every 2,000 people."

Noting the changes that have occurred in the drug business over the years, Ward remarked that "only 3 per cent of the same remedies are used today" as were in the 1920s. "Then you made everything yourself . . . Today drugs are manufactured on a large scale and bought by the pharmacist;" he said.

In the days when San Rafael General Hospital was still the Cottage Hospital, the two young druggists often had to dash to the San Rafael ferry slip to pick up emergency orders of vaccine that had to be rushed from a Berkeley laboratory.

Even though the Fourth street drug store was equipped with refrigeration from the time it opened, Ward said he and his partner made many emergency trips for medicines in the early days because wholesale houses delivered only once a week. Today deliveries are made daily.

Many facets of the drug business have changed, but the showcases and fixtures of the Campion - Ward Prescription Pharmacy at 1350 Fourth street are the same as when A. Von Rotz of San Anselmo installed them 30 years ago.

Campion lives with his wife, Marcella, at 21 Fairhills drive, San Rafael. The Wards reside at 216 Santa Margarita drive, San Rafael.

Larkspur Planners Approve Greenbrae Lagoon Tract

The tentative map of the 60-acre Greenbrae Lagoon subdivision on the south side of Corte Madera Creek near Redwood High School has been approved by the Larkspur Planning Commission.

Developer Niels Schultz Jr. said he would cooperate with the city's request for a tentative access road into the area for fire protection.

The area being developed is opposite Bon Air Shopping Center. The lagoon has been dredged, marshland reclaimed and the creek deepened, broadened and straightened to its original channel.

Construction of one-family lagoon homes and docking facilities is planned to begin late next year.

The commission, meeting Tuesday night, set a special session for 1 p.m. Sunday at the city hall to set up a work schedule for the next fiscal year.

The revised plans of Eugene Bissatini for a six-unit apartment house at Hillcrest and Bayo Vista avenues were approved.

The commission refused to take action on a request from residents in College Park that the Garden Spot Nursery be rezoned from business to residential. A rezoning request must come from the owner, the commission or council.

The commission's new secretary, Mrs. Isabel Moore, took over her duties Tuesday night. She is also employed in the office of City Manager Ronald E. Piper.

BUT HOW DID THE HARE MAKE OUT?

DETROIT, Mich. (AP)—A turtle named Disaster broke behind the field, but turned on the power in the stretch to loll across the finish line and win the international Turtle Derby Day race at the University of Detroit.

Disaster, a 10-year-old, carried the colors of the university's Red Cross board to victory and was draped in a horseshoe made of a lily of the valley.

Nanook of the North, the University of Alaska entry, crawled to victory in the International Cup, barely edging Flying Fritz from Heidelberg and Sir Velocitas of Oxford.

Some 80 turtles from colleges and universities around the world competed in 10 races.

Easy To Spell Now

OKMULGEE, Okla. (AP) — Residents on Napoleon street won city approval to change the name to Cedar lane. They said nobody could even spell Napoleon correctly.

Bartender Jailed For Drunk Driving

San Rafael bartender Doyle Raymond Browning, 39, who also owns apartments in San Francisco, must pay a $420 fine and spend 10 days in county jail for drunken driving.

He was sentenced by Judge Leonard A. Thomas of Marin Municipal Court for driving while intoxicated on Highway 101 on April 15. Highway patrolmen arrested him after an accident.

The judge granted Browning work furlough privileges during his jail term and ordered him to pay out-of-pocket expenses to the owner of the other vehicle, Richard Otto Gross of 1411 Cambridge street, Novato. His license is suspended for six months.

Browning had three prior drunken driving convictions. He was convicted in San Francisco in 1950 and 1952. He was convicted the third time in Vallejo in October, 1952. Browning gave his address as 815 Fourth street.

Marinites Get Safety School Scholarships

Three Marin County residents have been awarded aquatic school scholarships to Camp Tulequoia by the water safety committee of Marin County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

They are Mary Elizabeth Murray, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence F. Murray of 118 Bretano way, Greenbrae; Rowena Hannigan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Hannigan of 4 Cynthia court, Fairfax, and Mrs. Thomas E. Gilboy of 11 Rancheria road, Kent Woodlands.

The camp is located near Fresno and, in 10 days, provides training in swimming, lifesaving and small craft handling for water safety instructor candidates. Experienced water safety instructors are offered advanced work.

Other Marin County residents who qualify for the school may register at their own expense, according to Mrs. Robert Matson of the Red Cross chapter. Qualifications include an age minimum of 18 and, if an applicant is majoring in water safety instruction training, a senior life saving certificate.

Post Backs Loan Of Veteran Fund

The American Legion's Bolinas Bay post has endorsed the request of the board of supervisors for use of the veterans' memorial fund for building a juvenile hall.

The board of supervisors asked all veterans groups to vote on whether they approve of lending the fund for building of the hall.

Nomination of officers will be held at the next regular meeting, June 7, said A. C. Pfefferkorn, adjutant.

DRAW PODNER—Frank James brings up a rifle in either hand to show his fast draw technique. James, his rifles and revolvers, will be featured at the Marinwood Carnival May 15 at the Lucas Valley School.

Quick Draw Expert To Display Skill

Quick draw artist Frank James will be star attraction at the Marinwood Carnival May 15 to raise funds for the two elementary school libraries.

James will demonstrate his draws with revolvers and rifles at the carnival at the Lucas Valley School. (James is not related to the James boys of bank robbery fame.)

The carnival will run from noon to 6 p.m., sponsored by the Marinwood Home and School Club. Also featured will be a midway with 12 booths of games, cartoons for the children and a "Mothers' Follies" directed by Mrs. L. J. Leverman.

James will do his quick draw exhibition during three afternoon performances. He first picked up a gun at the age of 7 because "we had to hunt to eat."

His act stresses the need for proper handling of firearms. James claims he can draw and fire two shots in .17 of a second and get off five shots in .65 of a second.

Hot dog and soft drink stands, pony rides, and a sandbox treasure hunt will round out carnival activities.

Tickets Going On Sale For Scout Event

A boy's imagination is a wonderful thing, but sometimes it gets him into trouble.

Not so with the Marin Council't Scout-O-Rama, where the imaginative work of boys in Cub Packs, Boy Scout Troops, and Explorer Units will bring alive demonstrations, exhibits, scoutcraft, booth displays, games, skills, and fun events at Hamilton Air Force Base.

Scout-O-Rama tickets will be distributed to Scout units at district kickoffs tomorrow. Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts and Explorers will sell the tickets.

Some of the imaginative work of Scouting which has already been signed up by Scout units is for live booth demonstrations is as follows:

Reed Parent-Teacher Cub Pack 48 of Tiburon, "Themecreft"; Parents of Mill Valley Explorer Post 28, "Water Skiing"; Brookside P-TA San Anselmo Troop 35, "Camp First Aid"; Sleepy Hollow Home Owners Association Pack 50, "Games of Skill"; San Rafael Military Academy Troop 29, "Burro Packing"; Lee Brothers, Inc. Cub Pack 84, "Pinewood Derby"; Marinwood Home and School Club Pack 74, "California 49ers"; Mill Valley American Legion Troop 1, "Cooking."

Stinson Fence Dispute May Head For Courts

Controversy over the legality of a fence at Seadrift subdivision in Stinson Beach may head for the courts because an amicable settlement appears impossible, Dist. Atty. William O. Weissich declared yesterday after a conference in his office.

Weissich and the state attorney general contend the William Kent fence at the subdivision encroaches on a beach and deprives the public of use of the beach.

The Kent Estate, represented by attorney Bryan McCarthy, asserts that the fence was built after a joint survey with the state in 1948, and the Kents have since quieted title to the property.

McCarthy and attorney Kevin Casey, representing the Kent Estate, met yesterday at Weissich's office with officials of the state Lands Commission. Robert M. Sweet, deputy attorney general, was also present.

Sweet reaffirmed the state's position that the fence is trespassing on public tidelands and is a public nuisance. Kent's attorneys disagreed.

Weissich said he has asked the attorney general to join him in legal action to remove the fence. At the May 24 meeting of the state Lands Commission, the attorney general will seek permission to go to court, said Weissich.

Santa Catalina Island, discovered off the coast of California in 1542, was long a base for smuggling and piracy.

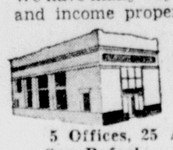

San Rafael Meter Maid Quits Job

San Rafael meter maid Patricia Prud'homme will quit her job on May 15 to take a better paying position, Police Chief Charles J. Chiesa disclosed today.

Chiesa is interviewing three other girls on the eligible list to pick a successor.

Mrs. Prud'homme is one of three meter maids who check the downtown area for meter violations. She submitted her letter of resignation Monday.

Ex-Banker Opens New Realty Office

Charles D. Owen, San Rafael resident who resigned as vice president and real estate loan department manager of the First National Bank and Bank of San Rafael in 1958, has opened a new real estate office at 1835 Lincoln avenue.

In the two years since his resignation Owen has been operating the Colonial Motel on Lincoln avenue, which he purchased 10 years ago.

One of the first projects of his new venture will be the marketing of homes in the Novato Garden subdivision now being built by Westwood Homes, Inc.

Owen began his banking career in 1916 as a messenger boy for the City National Bank of Bismarck, N.D., and in 1923 joined the Bank of Sausalito, which subsequently became an American Trust Co. office.

In 1938 he joined the First National Bank and Bank of San Rafael, where he was active in the real estate loan department until 1945. The following year he was appointed vice president, cashier and director of the Bank of Beaumont, but in 1947 rejoined the First National Bank and Bank of San Rafael.

Owen plans to specialize in real property loans in his new business.

He resides with his wife, Gertrude, at 1715 Lincoln avenue.

Speech Therapy Program Slated

Summer speech therapy program of the Marin Society for Crippled Children and Adults, Inc., will begin its six-week session on July 5, continuing through Aug. 12.

Enrollments may be made by June 1 with Jean Maraist, director therapist, at the Easter Seal Speech Therapy Center in Kentfield.

Services of the program include group speech therapy for children and individual speech therapy for adults and children.

Corte Madera Cubs Initiate Members

Cub Scout Pack 80 of Corte Madera initiated four new Bobcats at its latest meeting. They are Jim Colt, Charles Flint, Brian McColgan and Andy Shore.

The pack, sponsored by the Corte Madera Lions Club, plans a kite derby May 30 at 1:30 p.m. atop the Alto ridge fire road.

Speaker at Lodi

Richard L. Shirley, manager of the Greater San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, will speak this evening before a dinner meeting of the retail merchants committee of Lodi at the El Charro restaurant. He will speak about solving problems to keep a small town's business district active and progressive.

He Learns While He Earns

WORDS SHE WILL NEVER HEAR...

A great deal is being said and printed these days about juvenile delinquency. Many prominent educators, judges, statesmen, clergymen, and others are saying that a better use of leisure time by young people could greatly reduce the delinquency. One neighbor of Johnny Green's said this: "Kids don't know how to work these days." Another commented: "Some teenagers don't grow up; they just sit."

There may be much truth in what these people say. But the comments which they are making are not directed to the mother of Johnny Green. For Johnny is a newspaperboy. He has a business of his own—and work to do. He keeps busy—building his route, keeping accurate records, figuring out better ways to serve his customers. He's learning to accept responsibility as a way of everyday living. He's using his leisure time to grow up!

We, The People, Deserve To Be Represented On Boards

"Consent of the governed."

That, as grammar school citizenship courses teach, is the keystone of our form of self-government.

Our government has no power it doesn't derive from "we, the people."

That is the ideal situation. That is what we have in our national and state government, in theory.

But it doesn't always work out just that way.

Take the State Board of Pharmacy.

The authority and power it has are granted to it by the people through the state legislature.

The only real purpose for the pharmacy board's existence is to serve the people.

But does it?

Some of us think it doesn't always.

At the moment there is pending before the board a proposed regulation calculated to prevent advertising of prescription drugs.

As we explained in this space previously in this connection," suppress advertising and you suppress competition; suppress competition and you invite prices to rise."

We, the people, would best be served by having this proposed regulation scrapped. We need competition to help hold the line on drug prices.

But it is vigorously supported by the organized retail druggists. You can bet they "have the ear" of the pharmacy board.

Why?

Because all seven members of the pharmacy board are pharmacists.

There isn't a lay person representing we the people on the board. We the people have no one's ear.

We are stuck with whatever the pharmacy board decides, whether we like it or not, whether it serves the best interests of ALL the people or not.

This situation is not unique with the pharmacy board. It prevails likewise with all the state boards and commissions made up of special-interest members with close ties to special interest groups like the druggists' association.

Our suggestion is for the governor to appoint some "public" members to these special boards and commissions.

If three or four out of the seven pharmacy board members represented the drug-buying public (instead of just drug sellers), we the people would be adequately represented.

We could be sure that our interests would NOT be ignored.

Boys And Girls Day, Too

This coming Sunday is Mother's Day in America, but today is Boys' (or Children's Day) in Japan.

Today great hollow paper carp will float on the wind above millions of Japanese homes, usually one fish for each boy in the household. Carp are chosen as a symbol because of their courage and ability to swim against a strong adverse current and muddy waters, thus giving a moral lesson as well as an honor to the boys. Boys are given special privileges this day.

The girls have their day in Japan, too. On March 3 all houses blessed with girl children display their dolls and prepare food for them in tiny dishes. The little girls have handsome clothes for this holiday and invite friends and relatives to their homes and "play house."

The Japanese have no Mother's Day as such. Yet, Japanese children might be said to regard every day as Mother's Day for they are brought up with a strong tradition of respect and affection for their parents.

Perhaps Boys and Girls Days would not be a bad idea in this country, except they would probably get lost somewhere between Be - Kind - To-Stray-Housemice and National Doughnut-Dunkers Days.

Here Are Some More Fancy Fears To Bolster Your Social Prestige

NEW YORK (AP) — Are you tired of your old fears, and looking for something new to be afraid of?

A person's social prestige today often depends upon what he is terrified by. You have to have a fashionable fear or none.

Some time ago I compiled a list of odd fears the possession of which should give anyone added standing in his community. Since then many readers have written asking for still more strange things to be frightened by.

So here are a few additional fears to give you that scared feeling without which today no one seems to feel comfortable:

Does it make you feel blue to be alone? You are a victim of eremiophobia and monophobia.

Do you hesitate to take a fourth martini at a cocktail party because you think someone may be watching? You have scopophobia, the fear of being looked at.

Do you dislike being kissed by your dear old moist-mouthed aunt? That's a sure sign of hygrophobia, or fear of dampness.

Many teenagers think life unbearable if they get a pimple on their nose. They are afflicted with dysmorphobia, the fear of deformity.

Does your husband hate symphonic music? Does he watch nothing on television except westerns and private eye programs? The poor man deserves sympathy. He's got a bad case of bathophobia, or fear of any kind of depth.

If a goldfish leers at you, does it send you into a panic? You are undoubtedly an ichthyophobe, one who fears fish.

Does the rising cost of living give you the heebie-jeebies? My friend, you have come down with bathophobia, or fear of high objects.

DO YOU GET into a tantrum if someone puts soda, instead of branchwater, into your bourbon? You have a clear case of molysmophobia, the fear of contamination.

Beatniks suffer a triple dread. They have chrematophobia (fear of money), hylephobia (fear of materialism) and if the sight of a bathtub makes them tremble—hydrophobia (fear of water).

Do you worry over the prospect of a long visit by your relatives? This can safely be diagnosed as parasitophobia, the fear of parasites.

MANY BACHELORS are fugitives from marriage but don't know why. The answer is simple. There ailment is smothering or taphephobia, the fear of being buried alive.

Does the threat of Communism appall you? It's likely you have erythrophobia, the fear of anything red.

But, if you're like most people, the thing you are afraid of most of all is that you'll get what's coming to you. That is good old dikephobia — better known as the fear of justice.

Can't One-Way Tolls Be Legal?

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

The matter of congestion at the toll plaza of the Golden Gate Bridge is such a vital question to those of us who commute to San Francisco that I wish to add my voice to those who feel they have a remedy in the plan to collect tolls in only one direction.

The advantages of such a plan are so obvious that its very simplicity may be its greatest deterrent to adoption. The only objection I have read in the press is a statement attributed to the legal counsel for the district to the effect that it cannot legally be done.

The question of full utilization of the bridge during peak travel hours is far too important to leave this proposal where it apparently stands today.

The Board of Directors has been requested by one of your readers to request their counsel to come up with proposals as to how this one way collection system can be put into effect, legally.

It is up to us, the commuting public, to let the directors know this is our request also.

Closing Bridge Reprehensible

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

We, in the United States, and in the Bay Area were pleased to have the head of the French state as our collective personal guest. We were, naturally, most happy to offer our hospitality in the interests of furthering world peace and understanding.

General DeGaule as representative of a free nation (one that has practiced and carried democracy to great lengths) must know that the personal privilege and perogative of the head of state in the free world is solely one extended by courtesy. And, the general must be well aware of the fact that true courtesy neither imposes upon, nor nullifies the rights of others.

Then, both to General de Gaulle and to those who were prevented from crossing the Golden Gate Bridge while the general and his party rode in solitary grandure across the bridge, the belated, sincere apologies for a flagrant abuse of so-called police power in a free state. We offer our regrets that our officials, regardless of the basis of specious reasoning, should depart so far from real democracy and from true courtesy.

To the directors of the bridge district, and other elected and appointed officials; the closing of the bridge to normal traffic was reprehensible and outrageous, and is not to be countenanced except in real and dire emergency. Man does not ride in solitary, autocratic and feudal splendor over this our public domain to the exclusion of the populace.

Not one person who has expressed an opinion to me in this matter believes that this closing of the bridge was necessary, advisable, or tolerable. The unnecessary and unwarranted stoppage of traffic during a peak hour was not in the interests of safety, it engendered resentment and disrespect for those responsible.

The price of liberty is eternal vigilance, and this has not gone unnoticed.

Good House Living Worth The Cost

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

I take exception to your editorial of April 30, calling for less stringent building codes. I submit that Marin County would benefit from a more restrictive building code calling for larger lot sizes, quality constructed houses, and better roads, parks, and schools for newly developed areas.

If the only object of a building code is to multiply the residents and maximize the profits of the local merchants, then the codes should be framed to encourage "building for a price."

"Built for a price" is the euphemism for jerry-built, crackerbox tract houses on 30-foot lots without parks, schools, or any city services. Such houses are indeed cheap to buy and profitable to build, but that is about the only good thing to be said for them.

Many communities have learned from sad experiences that the "built for a price" house offers a poor life for its owner and makes a poorer contribution to the community. I would refer you to the book, "Crack in the Picture Window" for further comments.

Marin County is a pleasant place in which to live. This is the main reason that Marin property is desirable and expensive. If our building codes encouraged "built for a price" tracts, then Marin would be, by that much a cheaper and less pleasant place to live. Many people in Marin County earning considerably less than "union scale" have felt that living in a decent house in a good community is worth the extra cost.

The population growth in the Bay Area is such that within a generation most of the accessible property will be utilized.

The writers of the Marin County building codes have the task of determining whether the remaining land for building in Marin is to be covered with cheek-by-jowl slums in 1970 or by quality residential suburbs a few years later.

TRY AND STOP ME

BENNETT CERF

At a kiddies' birthday party in Hollywood five of the six little boys present were sons of dramatists; the sixth was the offspring of the owner of one of the country's biggest carpet factories. During a lull in the bedlam, the mother of the birthday boy asked the guests in turn what their fathers did. Five in succession answered, "My father is a play wright." The sixth, just as proudly, announced, "My father is a carpetwright."

Running into debt isn't what's bad, figgers Mike Aristotle Connolly; it's running into creditors that throws you.

Sighs Joe Newman:
They said it couldn't be done;
They said nobody could do it.
So I tackled the job with a confident smile,
It might've been done — but I blew it.

Chessman Wanted To Do Some Good, Help End Executions

We are all under sentence of death, I reminded a man last week.

"True," said he, "but what makes life tolerable for most people is they don't know for sure when death is to come."

By then Caryl Chessman had a pretty good idea in his own case. He'd been told a day and an hour. That this had happened nine times might seem to give reason to think it could go on forever, but Chessman knew that each time a few more escape roads closed.

And the experience was wearing — "each of those times diminishes one a little," he said. "I'd not recommend it as fun."

WITH CHARACTERISTIC wryness he had recently said he didn't think he had more lives than a cat. He quit fighting and started to reconcile himself at the time of that last close call within 10 hours of his scheduled end Feb. 19. Never did he seem more understandable, on the surface at least.

Perhaps it was because he was in his earlier days self-confessedly "the biggest damned fool on earth" that he developed such poise, dignity and sense of proportion later — an attitude completely at variance with his earlier violence and idiocy. One big answer he'd readied is that punishment in any form is the poorest answer to any form of wrongdoing.

He thought and weighed constantly, and the futility of it all bore down heavily as he hunted vainly for constructive sides. I am frank to say that watching this search I found him human, interesting and likeable. That he deplored the waste of it all was congenial to my own thinking.

IT WAS FOR a while his hope that Gov. Edmund G. Brown could take his life, with no more fight, in exchange for a law ending capital punishment for others. This was a fiasco. But to me it showed courage and insight; Chessman meant well in it.

Chessman never, in all my interviews, group and individual, failed to reiterate that he was not the Red Light Bandit. To me, there is a real point in his past record of sex normality. True perverts are known to the police from childhood. Chessman had a deplorably full record in other respects from 16 years of age, with no sex accusations much less convictions.

He freely spoke of other misdeeds, but stressed that he was never before even accused, much less convicted, of any crime involving sex abnormality or forcing a woman. Note that several fine and commonsense women became his firm friends.

As the end grew near he spoke intimately much of it not for the record, but convincing.

Chessman himself a competent writer, liked the press, though he was afraid of the mass interviews sometimes mistakenly represented as summoned by himself.

"WHEN THE WERE coming in bunches it wasn't too easy," he said last week in recalling the days before officials halted such meetings. "Somebody was bound to ask a provocative question, and a quick reply could make me look bad — 'aggressive,' maybe."

He smiled and added, "It's not easy for you, either, calling on a man they're going to kill. It's bound to make things a little awkward."

"Well," said I, "a little hard for you, too."

"No — in a person to person talk like this I can take it easy. You know I'm no 'fiend' as I've been portrayed in the past."

He said of the governor that Brown angered some by the recent reprieve, but the rest would be angered if there were no further action — a 100 per cent score!

SOMETIMES WE talked of odd things — cars, for instance, that being a big interest with Chessman in the days when he was racing the law out in the open. What would he most want to drive if he could get out and do it right now?

The answer surprised me, for he named a fast German sports model not in production when he went on Death Row. But he'd seen it on Los Angeles freeways on his appeal trips south, and he read incessantly.

CHESSMAN HAD plenty of humor. One thing he found funny was that some interviewers thought him humorless — "most of the interviews with me," he said, "tell more about the interviewer than about myself. My sense of humor is part of the sense of balance, all that has kept me going."

I think he honestly wanted to do some good somehow. In that last talk he admitted that he had been "a damned fool" and had done a lot of harm. If spared through whatever turn, said Chessman, he would try to work constructively in some fashion.

In his last words to the warden he said he hoped at least that his death might speed the end of capital punishment.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Democratic Candidates Had Better Do Something Besides Just Talk

WASHINGTON — The Democrats and the Republicans are right in at least one thing they are saying about each other.

Democratic politicians are saying that the Republican nominee will have to run primarily on the record of the Eisenhower administration. Republican politicians are saying that the Democratic nominee will have to run primarily on the record of the Lyndon Johnson Congress.

For eight years a Republican President has run the executive branch of the government and Richard Nixon has been a willing advocate of the administration's policies. In the campaign Nixon can promise to expand the Eisenhower policies, but he cannot repudiate them. In a later column I will discuss Nixon's problems.

THE DEMOCRATS' problems hinge on whether they have provided leadership in action equal to what they have constantly said was necessary.

For six years the Democratic leadership has run the Congress and the principal candidates for the Democratic nomination have been powerful forces in shaping the record of these three Democratic Congresses. They can promise to expand that record, but they can't repudiate it. And any campaign promises must be in keeping with that record if they are to be taken seriously.

NOW, WHERE does this leave the central issue which every Democratic presidential contender is making against the Eisenhower record?

The concerted attack on the administration on which all the Democratic hopefuls apparently agree is that the Republicans have not put enough into defense, have not done enough to wage the cold peace and have skimped on the budget for outer space.

That's fair criticism. But what I want to ask is this:

Do the Democratic presidential contenders believe this is enough to do something about it besides talk? Are they prepared to join in putting before the present Congress an expanded defense budget, an expanded cold-peace budget, an expanded outer-space budget—and new taxes if needed?

Only by taking such action can the Democratic contenders show that they really mean what they say when they attack the administration for doing too little.

Only by taking such action can they prove to the voters that their party is prepared to support them in Congress and thus make the issue rest solidly on the record of the Democratic Congress rather than just on the nominee's "campaign promises."

The rainy season seemed at an end with a total of 50.5 inches, according to records kept by the Bank of San Rafael.

NEW APARTMENTS ON SAN RAFAEL CANAL

Latest addition to San Rafael's increasing accommodations for apartment dwellers is Marina Landings, 60-unit ultra-modern luxury apartment structure built and operated by Parnow Brothers at 260 Canal street, which opened last weekend. Interior decorations and furnishings are by Dorothy Kell Furniture of San Rafael.

Posse, Auxiliary, CAP To Stage Mock Rescue

Members of the Marin County sheriff's mounted posse and the Four M's, posse members' wives auxiliary, will combine efforts with the Civil Air Patrol Squadron 4 in a mock air-ground rescue operation Sunday over the West Marin hills.

A pile of yellow scrap simulating a wrecked plane will be hidden somewhere in the area and two men representing survivors of the crash will be in the vicinity of the "downed plane."

At 10 a.m. the Civil Air Patrol plane will take off from the Army's auxiliary landing field on the Smith brothers ranch on the Redwood highway north of San Rafael and begin the search for the "lost plane."

The Civil Air Patrol will notify the mounted posse when the wreckage is spotted and the horsemen will be combing the hills in eearch of the "survivors."

The Four M's will administer first aid to the survivors. The ground search will be under direction of Undersheriff Eugene Meyer and O. E. Peterson of Mill Valley.

A chicken barbecue will be held at the Circle V picnic grounds in Fairfax after completion of the search. Robert DeYoung of the Smith brothers ranch is chairman of the event.

Warning System Explanation Given

S. N. McLaughlin, Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Co. plant manager in San Rafael, demonstrated the Bell system's role in setting up attack warning lines at a civil defense meeting Monday at Tamalpais High School.

Approximately 70 educators from the high school and other Southern Marin schools attended the briefing. A mechanical unit was used by McLaughlin to show how the telephone company sets up such attack warning lines as SAGE (semi-automatic ground environment), White Alice (another warning system) and the DEW (distant early warning) line for the military defense forces.

Maj. Robert Senecal, Air Force public information officer, answered questions on civil defense.

Permits Show San Rafael Building Boom

San Rafael, expanding northward with new annexations, appears headed for a record building year, Building Inspector Clifford Monk reported today.

Building permits issued thus far this year represent a total valuation of $4,205,239, as compared with $2,916,302 at this time last year.

Building permit valuation for March of this year hit an all-time record for one month of $1,852,124 in total valuation. Of this amount, $1,564,000 was for 75 new homes. Most of these were Eichler homes in Terra Linda Valley. San Rafael Military Academy's new addition accounted for about $100,000.

April did not reach the March total. Permits were issued for 64 homes valued at $1,144,884. Of these, 52 were Alameda Homes in Terra Linda unit 11. Two apartments accounted for $218,000. One is Mason Manor at 430 First street, and the other is D. M. Christensen's apartment at 51 Canal street.

Two service stations, two warehouses and other miscellaneous structures brought the total valuation for April to $1,493,873.

Resignation Came At Board Meeting

Ray A. Graber, guidance consultant for the county superintendent of schools office, did not submit his resignation to the county board of education in advance of its meeting Monday night.

"I would like it clarified that Mrs. (Alce Ann) Rust (board president) did not receive the letter, in which I announced my resignation, prior to the board meeting," Graber said. "She did not receive it until late in the meeting and only seconds before I handed the actual resignation to the county superintendent."

The Independent-Journal erroneously said Mrs. Rust had received the letter in advance, and is happy to correct the error.

Reed Teachers To Meet With Expert On Reading

Reed Union School District trustees have decided to have an in-service meeting of teachers with Dr. David Russell, authority on reading and author of Ginn reading series, on May 12. Children will be dismissed from school one hour early.

An agreement with the town of Corte Madera to use the district's Brazil school site for recreation by Corte Madera residents was signed at the trustee's Tuesday night meeting. Corte Madera will prepare and maintain the site and the district will provide $700 worth of equipment out of community service funds, Supt. Paul R. Stouffer said.

Robert Gowan, Seattle teacher, and Donald Cowan, of Mountain View, were employed as Reed School fifth or sixth grade teachers. Ann Durfey's resignation was accepted.

Reed District Parent-Teacher Club representative Henry Schubart asked trustees several questions on the club's relation to the school board.

"Our committee wants to know the areas in which parents and the community can take an active part in school affairs without disturbing the administrative guidance of the staff and the trustees," Schubart said.

A three-hour discussion followed. Schubart and the trustees found no area of wide disagreement.

Schools Are Best Place To Catch Mental Illness At Early Stage

Let's take a look at the kids in your child's class at school:

Probably you know them well. But did you realize that one or two of them will live a good part of their adult lives in mental hospitals? That three or four will be in and out of psychiatrists' offices frequently? And that another four or five will be quite neurotic and miserable most of their days?

Mental illness is our number one health problem. It jars me to think of so many children headed for trouble. The worst of it is their future misery could be prevented.

We know how to build mental health. We know how to prevent many future breakdowns. But we don't use our knowledge. Instead we let the kids rock along, sowing the seeds of mental illness. Not smart, are we?

What should we do?

At least two things, both of them through school. First we should have our teachers spot the children who are candidates for future mental illness. They know which ones fail, and fail and fail. They're acquainted with the pupils who are too anxious, too afraid. They are aware of the boys and girls who burn with hostility and resentment. They know the isolated daydreamers.

Then the teachers should refer the troubled ones to experts for treatment. We should hire school social workers and school psychologists. The psychologists can study the children scientifically, and take much of the guesswork out of their care. The social workers can help the children understand themselves, and their problems. They can teach their parents how to build mental health instead of illness in their offspring.

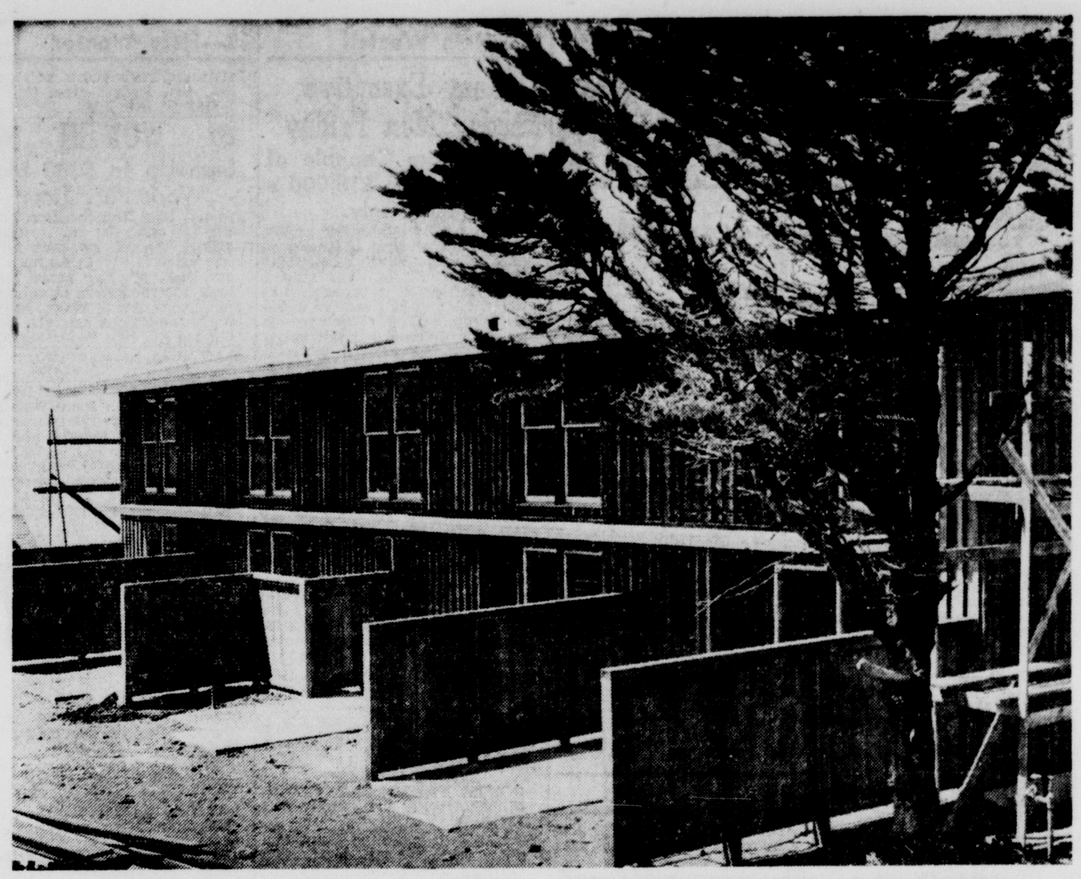

The cost? Not much. We pay thousands of dollars per year to take care of each person in our mental hospitals. Only a few dollars per year, spent on children when they need it, could prevent most of that.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Can teachers also be mental health specialists?"

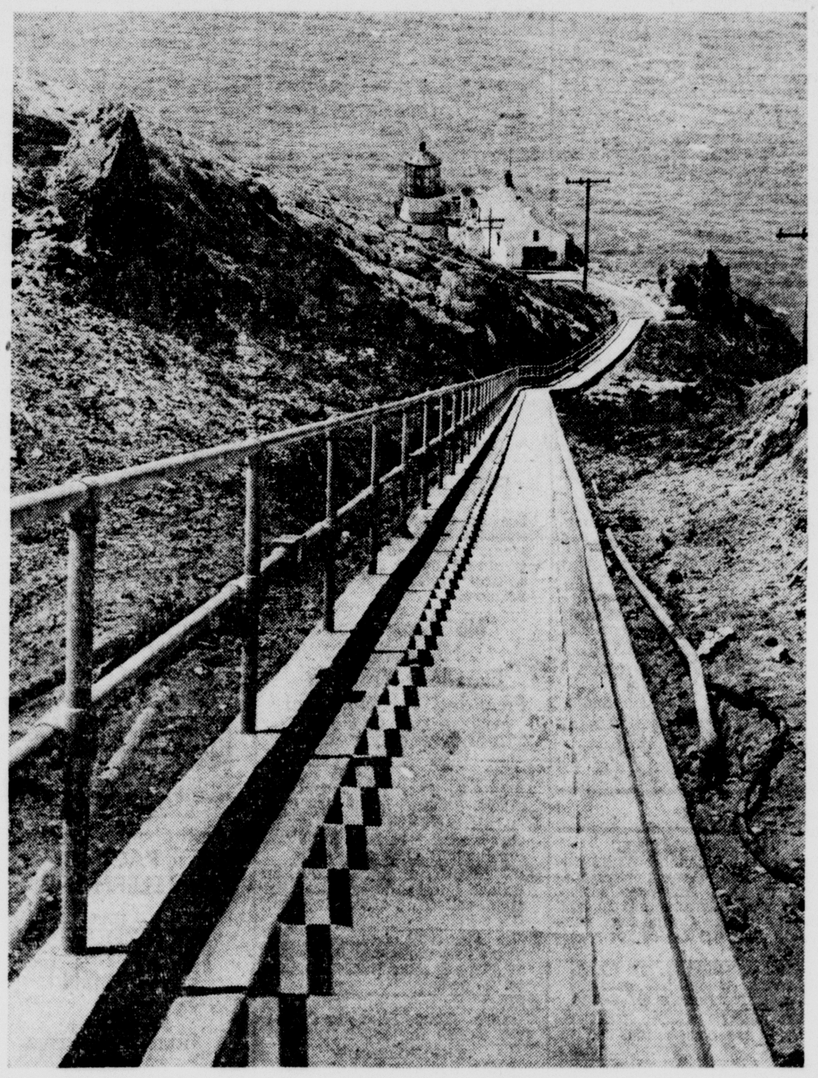

A.R.E.

(A) To a degree. But they can't be skilled psychologists and social workers, and still be expert teachers. Their job is complicated enough already. Specialists can do the mental health job better.

MORE COMFORT FOR LIGHTHOUSE KEEPERS

The Pt. Reyes lighthouse will have a family atmosphere when new quarters are completed. The post now is manned by a married bosun and three single men. Completion of the new quarters will bring four families to the lighthouse. The building shown above has two three-bedroom and two two-bedroom apartments. It cost about $96,000 and replaces two buildings 90 and 60 years old. Windbreaks extend from its sides to give private patio space. Another building will provide carport, garage and carpenter shop space. Quarters are 600 feet above sea level. (Independent-Journal photo)

DOWN TO THE SEA—New concrete steps at the Pt. Reyes lighthouse again will allow visitors to see the installation when other work is completed in about a month. The steps replace rickety old ones which led to the light station, 294 feet above sea level. The light was installed in 1870 as a kerosene installation and is still in operation under electric power. It can be seen for 24 miles. (Independent-Journal photo)

Sausalito Lot Job Awarded Marin Firm

Piombo and Bresnan, San Rafael contracting firm was awarded the bid for building a 157-car Sausalito city parking lot between Bridgeway and Humboldt avenue by the Sausalito City Council Tuesday night.

The firm's bid of $8,731 was the lowest of four. Other bidders were Ghillotti Brothers Inc. of San Rafael, $9,480; O. C. Jones of Berkeley, $9,555, and LeeMac Paving Co. of Corte Madera, $10,480.

The contract covers paving and installation of automatic gates.

Contract to install a tennis court at South View Park, went to low bidder Ghillotti Brothers, Inc., of San Rafael at $4,935.

Other bidders were LeeMac Paving Co., $6,890; Brown-Ely Co. of San Rafael, $7,190, and C. and H. Contractors of Richmond, $7,480.

Closed Session Held By Board

The San Rafael Board of Education discussed re-employment of teachers and hiring of new teachers for Terra Linda High School in a closed executive session Tuesday night.

A X Y D L B A A X R
is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Permits To Be Required Soon For Open Fires

Fire permits soon will be required even for weekend barbecues, Novato Fire Chief George J. Cavallero warned today.

The fire "season" is set each year by the Marin County Fire Department, with local departments usually following suit to avoid confusion.

In Novato, when the season is proclaimed, fires of all types, including incinerators, must be out by noon. Permits are required for all open fires. They can be obtained free, at either firehouse, the chief explained.

Incinerators must have holes no larger than one quarter inch, the area around incinerators must be bare dirt for at least 10 feet, an adult should be watching the blaze and a 50-foot hose should be nearby.

Knock Before Entering

MANSFIELD, Ohio (AP) — The next time Dick Davidson of Shelby feeds his dog, he'll call him out of the doghouse first.

Davidson, 38, was treated at a hospital here for bite wounds in the forearm. He told attendants that he stuck his arm into his dog's house and was bitten —by a visiting raccoon.

HE PROBABLY WORKS AS A WEATHER MAN

CABOT, Ark. (AP)—The woman census taker had called at three houses where the family name was Ray.

At the next house, she introduced herself and asked the man at the door for his name.

"Guess."

"Well," said the census taker, "I suppose if I had to guess I'd say the name was 'Ray'."

"No, no," he explained, "My name is Guess."

Distribution Set For Earwig Bait

Members of Novato 4-H clubs will continue their yearly war against earwigs this year. Poison bran will be distributed to homes Saturday.

The poison will not be left unless someone is home to receive it. The bait also kills snails and slugs. About 8,000 pounds of the bait will be distributed.

The campaign is carried out each year through the county Agricultural Department with the aid of 4-H members who distribute the bran.

Meeting Set On Sanitary Bond Issue

The Corte Madera Sanitary District board Tuesday night planned a program of information and a public meeting later this month on the district's $900,000 bond issue election June 7.

Some $395,000 of the bond issue is sought to fulfill the district's contractual obligations to Ross Valley Sanitary District. The $505,000 balance would be spent for modification and enlargement of the district's force mains and pumping stations.

The board also authorized repair and replacement of a portion of the sewer along south trail between Redwood and Morningside drive. An agreement was signed with Roto Rooter Co. to clean the trunk sewers along Tamalpais drive, Pixley and Willow avenues, to be completed by next fall.

Washington's farewell address was written by the President in collaboration with Alexander Hamilton.

Homes Face Sewer Line Service Loss

Ten residents of Gallinas Village who ignored payment of a $2 monthly sewage fee levied by the Community Service District last November are scheduled to have their sewer lines discontinued next week.

Directors of the Gallinas Village Community Services District voted unanimously Tuesday night to discontinue 10 sewer lines to residences of persons who failed to pay their bills by the April 30 deadline previously set up by the district.

The directors will meet at the John McPhail School Monday at 8 p.m. to give the 10 residents a final opportunity to pay up or protest before discontinuing service sometime later in the week reported Mrs. Mary Dunn, secretary.

The special service charge was levied on all residents of the district to raise money for repair work on the sewage plant. More than 470 homeowners have paid their fees, reported Mrs. Dunn. The $2 charge will be collected for the last time next month, after which the cost will go on the tax roll, she said.

The board also voted Tuesday night to pay each board member $10 per meeting starting June 7. The members will not be paid for attending more than three meetings per month, reported Mrs. Dunn.

The board accepted the resignation of Jay Crotty who said that "an increasing work schedule" was the reason for his leaving the board, and Harry Thomas who previously had notified the board he wished to retire applied for reappointment. The resignations of Crotty and Harry Johnston who notified the board of his retirement last month will become effective June 7.

Sausalito To Negotiate For Five Lots

Sausalito Mayor Philip S. Ehrlich Jr. has appointed a committee to negotiate a price for the purchase of five underwater lots at the foot of Richardson street.

The proposed acquisition is part of the city's policy of gradually acquiring waterfront property along Bridgeway so the city may keep open water in that area.

Ehrlich appointed Councilman Michael Harris as chairman of the committee and named himself to sit down together with owner Walter Benson to discuss acquisition.

Councilman Marjorie Brady reported the "status was quo" on Shelter Cove underwater lots which the city plans to purchase. She said Mayor Ehrlich is in touch with the various principals involved and hopes to work out something to present to the city council.

CHP Officers Take Intensive Training Course

SACRAMENTO (AP) — Behind every California highway patrolman is 12 weeks of intensive training—and more.

As soon as a new patrolman is sworn in he begins a 12-week course at the Highway Patrol Academy here, where he studies more than 50 subjects relating to traffic law enforcement.

After that he returns regularly to the capital for in-service training, to learn new techniques and developments in his field.

Patrol officials feel that the most important duty of patrolmen is to protect life and property. So the main part of their training comes at pistol ranges, where the proper use of firearms is taught.

Skill in operation of patrol cars and motorcycles is developed on a network of paved, graveled and dirt roads on the academy grounds.

To prepare patrolmen for every possible highway situation, all of the physical conditions usually encountered on California roads are duplicated on these training courses.

Equally emphasized in the instruction is first aid training, for patrolmen often are called upon to give emergency aid to seriously injured motorists. Frequently, knowledge of first aid is a matter of life or death.

Training of patrolmen isn't confined to the Sacramento academy. At their duty posts, they are regularly supplied with training manuals covering a wide variety of subjects.

The full instruction program has two goals: To improve the Highway Patrol's service, and to keep enforcement procedure standard throughout the state.

Three Given Cash For Safety Ideas

Three Marin County employees won $10 awards for safety suggestions. The board of supervisors made the awards on the recommendation of the county safety commission.

Winning the cash were:

Margaret Hoff, director of public health nursing, for a suggestion that a children's play area in the health department lobby be fenced so toys there would not be spread over the lobby and become a hazard to workers and the public.

Charles Braam, civil deputy, sheriff's office, for suggesting rubber covering for the steep steps leading to the courthouse basement.

Dora H. Farley, matron, sheriff's office, for suggesting a cocoa mat outside and a rubber mat inside the entrance to the sheriff's office to prevent persons from slipping in wet weather.

Novato City Given New 50-Star Flag

A new 50-star flag was presented to the Novato City Council Tuesday night by the Novato Kiwanis Club.

Making the presentation was Roland Vetter, Kiwanis president, who urged the council to "keep the threshhold high and maintain our government of the people, by the people and for the people."

NEED LOTS OF ROOM? Well, we have just listed a 3 plus bedroom home with rumpus room. Roughed in 4th bedroom and bath can be easily finished. Custom built by one of Marin's finest contractors. 2 baths, plenty of built-ins, deck — and large view living room. Gorgeous view of east bay and San Francisco. If you would like to live on a nice quiet street in the central section of Greenbrae, by all means, call us for an appointment to see this attractive vacant home. $29,500.

NEAR GREENBRAE SCHOOL — If you're looking for a lovely ranch style home with a private path to school — this is it. No streets to cross! Owner transferred and we just listed this lovely GREENBRAE home. Wonderful deck makes living all on one level — 3 plus bedrooms, 2½ baths, large service room and partly finished rumpus room downstairs. Exceptionally convenient location—near BUS and SCHOOLS. And the petrified wood fireplace is a "conversation piece" built-in to this breathtaking living room. We just can not be too enthusiastic about this home!!! Price $34,000.

GORGEOUS MODERN ONE OF THE MOST CHARMING HOMES TO BE SEEN IN GREENBRAE. ABSOLUTELY NOTHING LIKE IT — oak trees and beautiful view are the setting for this well kept, like new, modern home. One of the outstanding appointments is the expansive living room, opening onto deck. Full dining room, complete electric kitchen. 3 large bedrooms, plus RUMPUS ROOM (or 4th bedroom), 2 baths. Vacant — immediate occupancy. An excellent family home! Reduced. $37,000.

ADJACENT TO MAIN ENTRANCE — Well, almost! — Just a few steps to stores, bus and everything. An unusually beautiful custom built home — quality throughout. 2 large bedrooms, 2 baths, carpets and drapes. Everything the finest, completely landscaped level site — a true luxury home, $39,750.

BEAUTIFUL SETTING! Just think! This is your opportunity to own that wonderful home you have been dreaming of in Greenbrae! No, it doesn't have a for sale sign on it — but it is located on a beautiful wooded lot, so call us for full particulars right away. It consists of rumpus room, shop, 3 bedrooms, dining room, carpets, drapes, 2 baths and dog run. Owner will sell completely furnished if desired. $39,850.

BEAUTY HAS BEEN CAPTURED — In this extraordinary home for a choosy family. This truly delightful home, near the main gate has all the EXTRAS that make for luxurious living. Beautiful SWIMMING POOL, 3 bedrooms, 3 baths, dining room, and gorgeous landscaping — including Italian marble patio. Gorgeous all level property. For those wanting something Special! Exclusive! $57,000.

Recreation Group Reverses Stand On Celebration

Members of the Fairfax Park and Recreation Commission voted Tuesday night to rescind a previous recommendation and urge the city council to allow the Native Sons of the Golden West to hold a July 4 fireworks display and festival in the city park.

Commissioner Larry Walsh Jr. said the members of the Native Sons already had contract committments with carnival concessions, reported Commissoner William L. Brown.

The city council previously banned festivals from the park on a recommendation of the park commission that the park should be landscaped.

The request for reconsideration will be placed before the city council Monday at 8 p.m.

The Park and Recreation Commission will meet June 6 at 8 p.m. at the residence of Chairman Ralph E. Ford, 235 Ridgeway avenue.

THREE MODEL BOYS – AND GIRLS

San Rafael Toy Shop this week awarded prizes to winners of a children's model car building contest which drew entries of everything from a 1907 Renault to a futuristic Ford. Getting their trophies and displaying their models to Richard Gaffney, toy shop manager, are (from left) Jay Sheeks, 13; David Reid, 15, and Stephen Carlevaris, 9, first place winners in their age groups.

New Greenbrae Home Opened For Viewing

Greenbrae's newest display home, with exterior pastels and the natural beauty of Greenbrae surrounding it, has opened for spring viewing at 75 Via Navarro in the newly opened section of Greenbrae.

The entrance, with brass-fitted, pastel door, is set off by a panel of Paso Robles stone. From the entrance hall with guest closet and sliding glass doors to living rooms, the design for indoor-outdoor living becomes immediately apparent.

A floor-to-ceiling fireplace of Paso Robles stone construction with raised hearth is inset into a grained-surface wall of the living room. Through glass doors is the wide, full house-depth sundeck that forms a patio in the sky. The dining room, opening by shuttered doors from the living room, is large enough for formal dining and the sliding, double doors form a glass wall between the diners and the sundeck. The kitchen and dinette, in yellow, birch and blue, are color-coordinated with built-in electric appliances. The kitchen window catches the morning sun.

Seven steps up from the entrance hall is the family area of three bedrooms (with large walk-in closets) and two baths.

On the lower level, reached by bannistered stairs from the entrance hall, is a finished all-purpose room with a picture window that frames the beauty of this exalted view. A separate laundry room and a separate storage area share this level with the two-car garage.

This spring display home was designed by R. R. Zahm and built by Schultz Building Co. It is in the $30,000 to $40,000 price range. Casa Marin of San Rafael has furnished the house for display.

Army Rifle Taken

Someone stole a .30 caliber Army Springfield rifle from the San Rafael Military Academy during Sunday's open house, Col. R. S. Nourse reported to San Rafael police. Colonel Nourse said the gun had no firing pin.

Parrot On Loose

One of every 12 persons in Arizona is an Indian.
